Tennessee has a storied tradition of great players and great teams. I am very excited about the opportunity we have here, and I hope you are too.

Since becoming part of the Tennessee family in December, I have been amazed at the energy and enthusiasm of our fans. I can't wait to experience having more than 100,000 of you cheering our team on at one of the greatest venues in college football during our eight home games this fall.

When I took this job, I set out to hire the best coaches in America, and I think we have assembled a group of coaches that are unrivaled anywhere in the country. As a staff, we have a total of 35 years NFL coaching experience, 118 years of collegiate coaching experience, 84 years of coaching experience at BCS conference schools and 32 years of coaching experience in the SEC. Those involved in our program have won 13 national titles, 36 conference titles and 48 bowl games, not to mention a Super Bowl.

My staff and I are committed to recruiting the best student-athletes in the country to build on UT's outstanding history. Our first recruiting class ranked in the top 10 nationally and included the No. 1 rated player in the nation. We continue to work tirelessly at bringing the top players to Knoxville.

We want the 2009 team and all of our future teams to be disciplined and accountable in all areas of life. Our progress can already be seen in the way our players are handling their workouts and the level of dedication they are bringing to putting Tennessee football back on top. On the academic front, the football team had its highest GPA in four years last semester. The student-athletes are continuing that hard work in the classroom and dedicating themselves to their responsibilities as the season approaches. As a coaching staff, we hope to instill in our guys a standard of excellence in their work on and off the field.

We are committed to putting this program back among the national elite, and we are dedicated to developing these young men into the best players and adults they can be. I appreciate the welcome you have given us, and I hope you will come out and support your team this fall.

Go Vols!

COACHING CREDENTIALS

The Tennessee coaching staff has a combined total of 35 years NFL coaching experience, 118 years of collegiate coaching experience, 84 years of coaching experience at BCS conference schools and 32 years of coaching experience in the SEC.

The UT coaches and support staff have combined to win 13 national titles, 36 conference titles and 48 bowl games.

Six staff members have been either head coaches or coordinators in the NFL or at a BCS conference school.

Assistant head coach/recruiting coordinator/defensive line coach Ed Orgeron has been a part of three national championship teams and coached more than 18 years at the Division I level.

Defensive coordinator Monte Kiffin has 26 years of NFL coaching experience and is the architect of the famed 'Tampa 2' defense, which helped his Tampa Bay Buccaneers to a win in Super Bowl XXXVII.

Offensive coordinator/tight ends coach Jim Chaney coached six offenses that ranked in the top 10 nationally in total offense while at Purdue from 1997-2005.

Running backs coach/special teams coordinator Eddie Gran has more than 20 years of collegiate coaching experience and has tutored seven NFL running backs at some point in their careers.

In 13 years as a full-time college assistant, linebackers coach Lance Thompson has won a national title, two conference titles and five bowl games.

Wide receivers coach Frank Wilson coached NFL back BenJarvus Green-Ellis to consecutive 1,000-yard seasons while at Ole Miss.

Quarterbacks coach David Reaves has seven years of SEC coaching and recruiting experience after working under Steve Spurrier at South Carolina.

Secondary coach Willie Mack Garza has helped coach teams to conference championships and bowl wins in both the Big 12 and Conference USA.

Offensive line coach James Cregg has coached seven years at the collegiate level and two in the NFL, helping the 2007 Oakland Raiders to become one of the league's top rushing offenses.

NEYLAND STADIUM

One of the game's greatest venues and a home-field advantage like no other.

Tennessee has led the SEC in attendance for 35-straight seasons.

The Vols have ridden Neyland Stadium crowds to 36 undefeated seasons in the history of the building.

Tennessee's home attendance has ranked in the top four nationally for a remarkable 33-consecutive seasons.

Neyland Stadium is the second-winningest home stadium in college football, having played host to 422 Vol wins since 1921.

The stadium is currently undergoing a five-phase renovation project that will prepare it to host UT fans for years to come.

"It is a remarkable experience. It starts with the Vol Walk down to the stadium, and the energy just builds and builds until you run through the 'T' for kickoff."

– Jerod Mayo

"The big games I played in Neyland Stadium are right up there with the Super Bowl. It is still one of the most electric atmospheres I have ever experienced, and the passion of the fans is what makes the difference."

– Peyton Manning

A JANUARY TRADITION

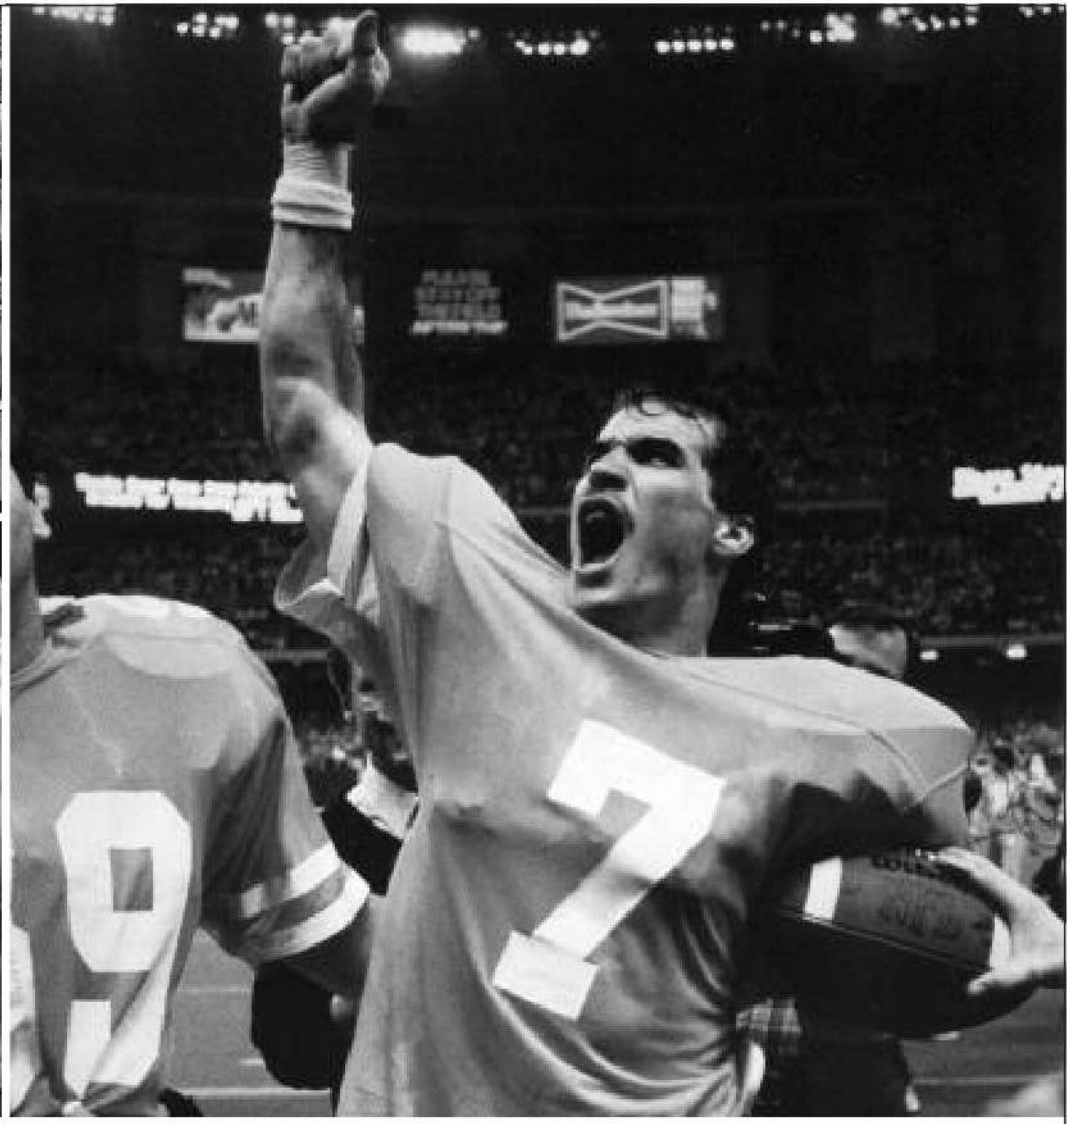
Tennessee has played in 47 bowl games, which is tied for the third-most in the nation.

The Vols have won 25 all-time bowl games, which is tied for the fourth-most in the nation.

Tennessee has played in 12 January bowl games since 1993.

The Vols have played in 14 different bowls since 1939.

Tennessee has played in the four bowls that now comprise the Bowl Championship Series a total of 16 times.



IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Tennessee has played 38 games on national television in the last five seasons.

The Vols have had nine games televised every season since 1996.

The last season Tennessee played less than seven conference games on television was 1994.

Tennessee has played a non-conference game vs. a BCS opponent on national television in 10 of the last 11 seasons.

Tennessee athletes have appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated 10 times.

Former Vol Peyton Manning has appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated an additional eight times.

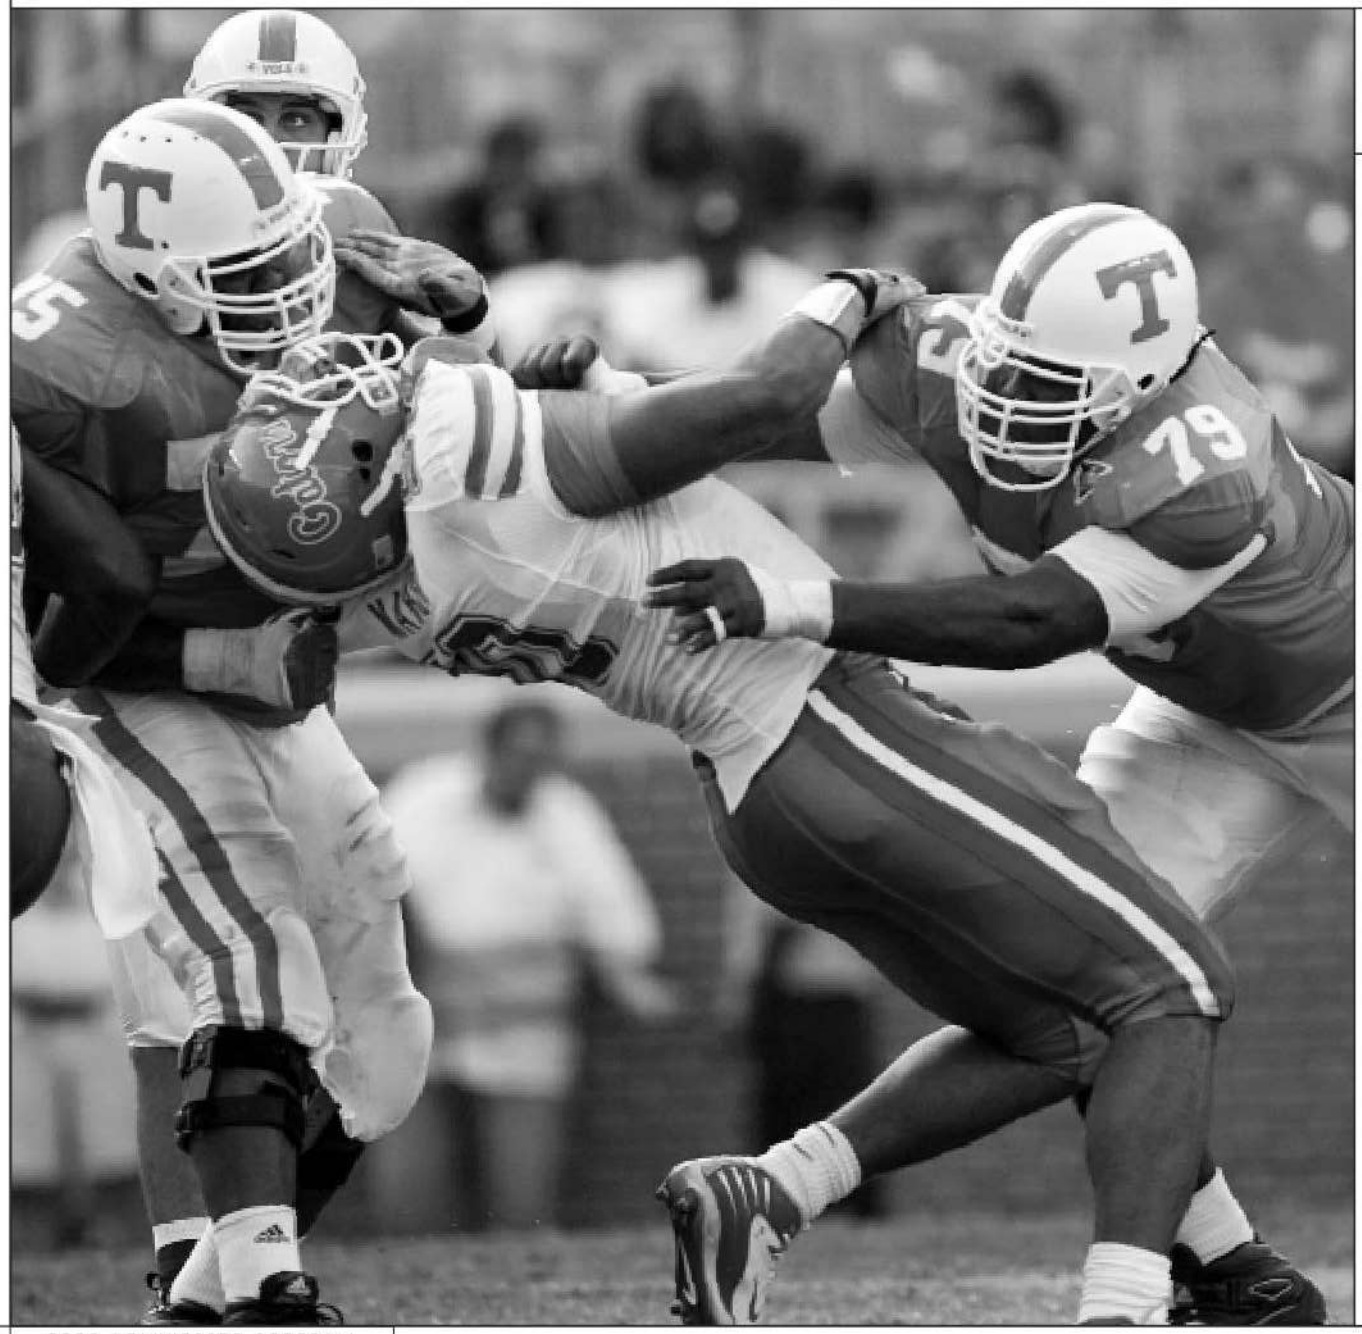
THE BEST CONFERENCE IN AMERICA



The SEC has won five national titles since the inception of the BCS in 1998 and seven titles since the league expanded in 1992.

The SEC had four teams ranked in the top 15 of the final Associated Press and USA Today coaches polls, more than any other conference.

The SEC has had four teams ranked in the top 15 in the final AP poll for four-consecutive seasons.

During the last three bowl seasons, the SEC has won 19 bowl games, more than any other conference.

In 2008, the SEC led all conferences with a 76.7 winning percentage in non-conference games.

The SEC drew 6.4 million fans to its games in 2008, more than any other conference.

In 83 game dates, the SEC averaged 76,832 fans per game, which is the highest single-season average in NCAA history.

The SEC's 361 all-time bowl appearances and 190 bowl wins are more than any other conference.

The SEC had more NFL players (259) on 2008 opening weekend rosters and more players selected in the 2009 NFL Draft (37) than any other conference.

The SEC has the most extensive television package in the country, with nationally televised games on CBS and ESPN every week of the regular season.

LOWELL

AT FULL STRENGTH

Tennessee's strength and conditioning program utilizes a 17,000 square foot facility and more than 50,000 pounds of weights.

The UT program stresses Olympic lifts and free weight exercises, all done at fast pace to simulate practice tempo.

Workout groups always consist of fewer than 20 players and are directly supervised by a coach so that every rep counts.

The Vols' football program is headed by former Volunteer track and field standout Aaron Ausmus with the assistance of Harry Galbreath, Steve Gortmaker and Dan Hamilton.

Ausmus has more than 10 years of experience in college football strength and conditioning and was an integral part of Southern California's 2003 AP National Championship. He has coached previously at Tennessee, USC, Idaho, Mississippi and North Texas.

He has trained numerous NFL players including Carson Palmer, Reggie Bush, Matt Leinart, Troy Polamalu and LenDale White.

Galbreath is a former All-America offensive lineman for the Vols who played nine seasons in the NFL. He has worked closely with New England Patriots linebacker Jerod Mayo and 2009 first-round draft pick Robert Ayers.

Steve Gortmaker comes to the Vols after four seasons at South Carolina, with prior stops in his 10-year career at Oklahoma, Western Kentucky and Kansas. He played defensive back for the Sooners from 1995-98.

Dan Hamilton is in his fourth season at Tennessee and has coached Mayo and Ayers as well as 11 other current NFL players.

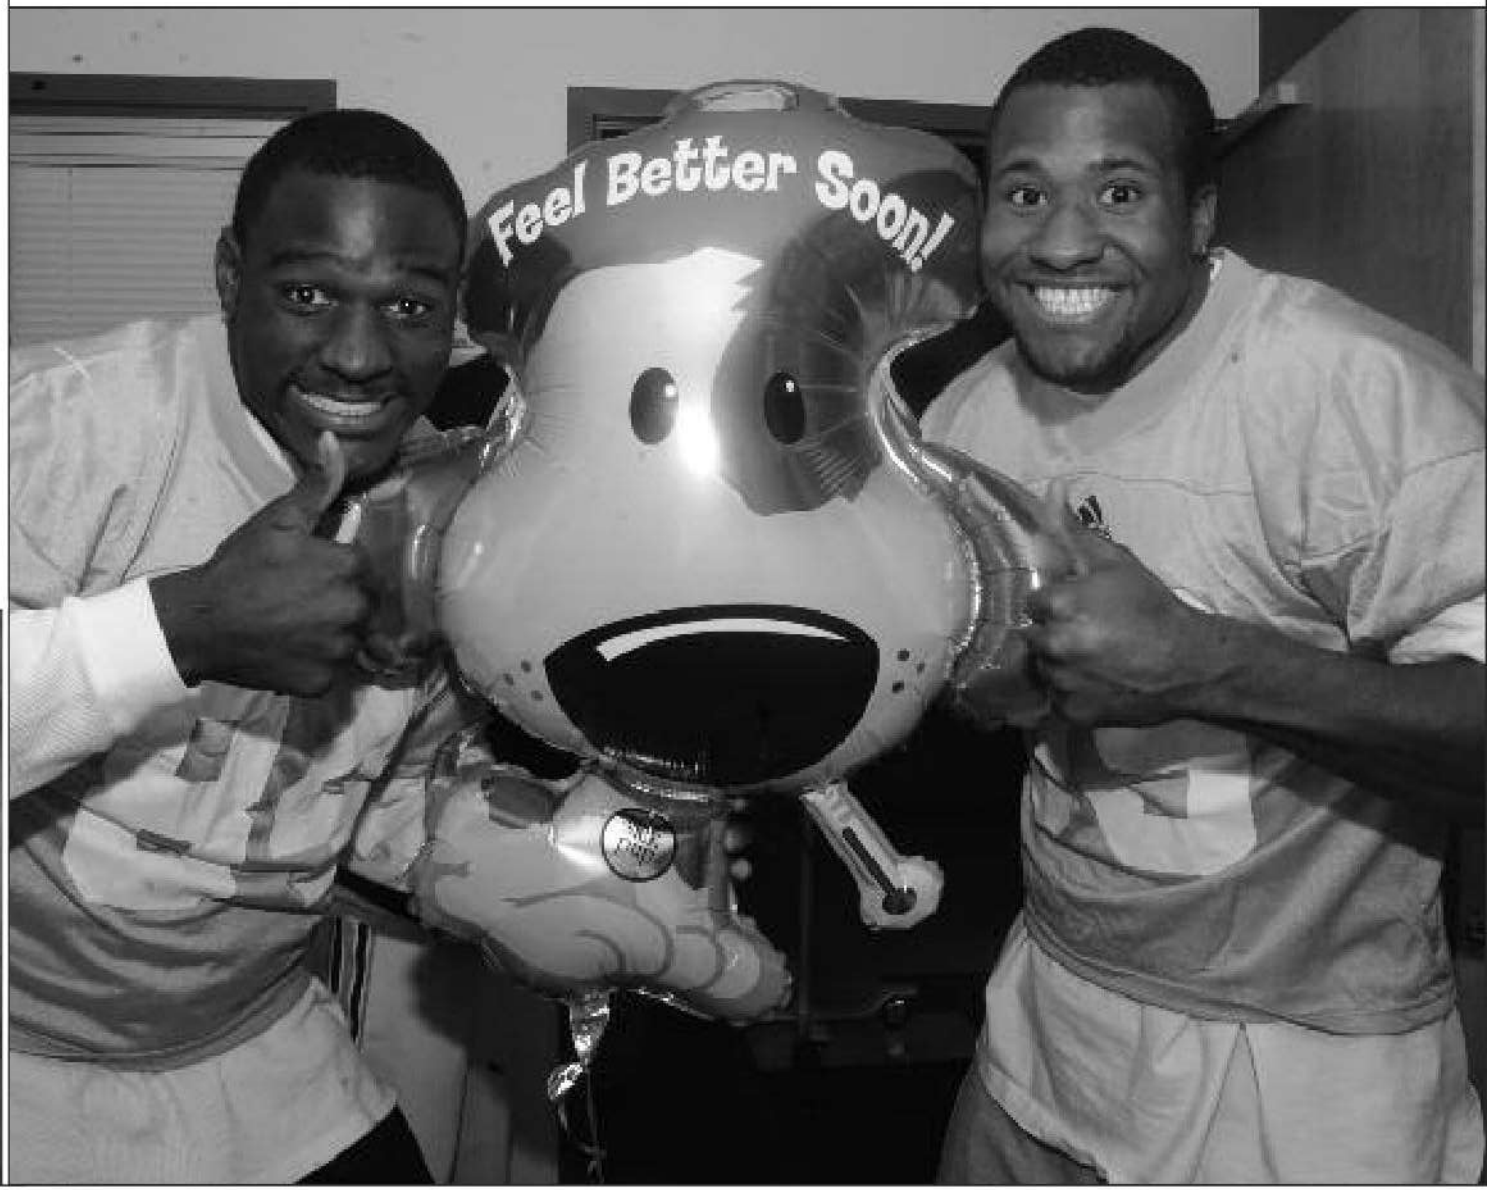
VOLUNTEERING IN THE COMMUNITY

The Tennessee football program has a long-standing tradition of giving back to the Knoxville community that has supported it so strongly over the years. The community service projects are not required of the athletes, but they have always been interested in participating. The players earn the right to go into the community through their actions on the field, in the classroom and on campus.

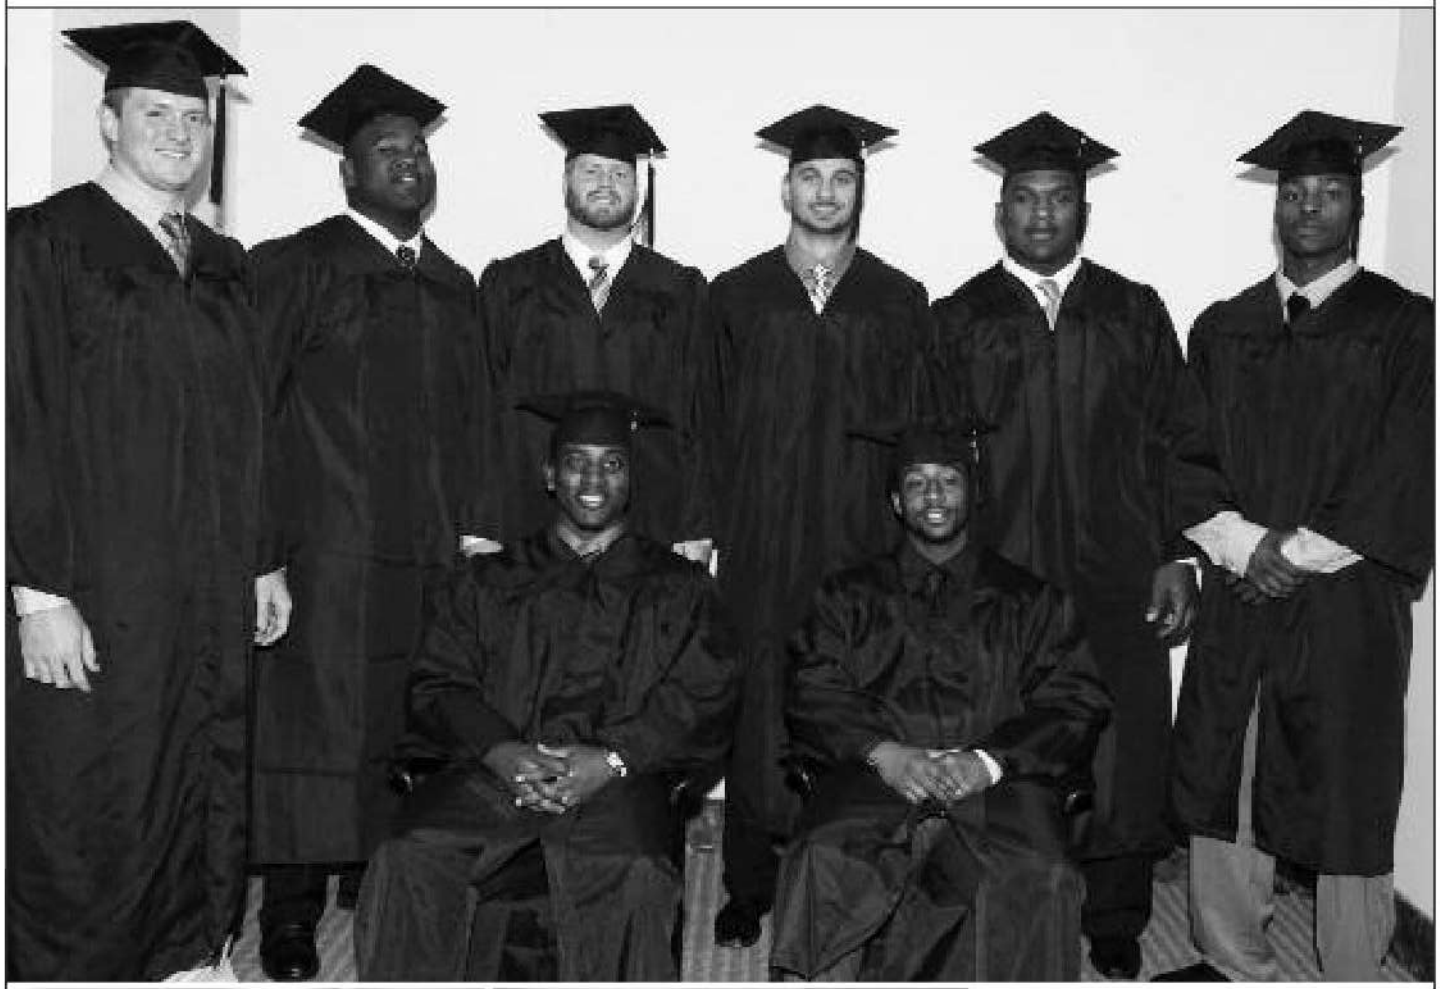
Tennessee football's community service initiatives last season included:

- Visiting the East Tennessee Children's Hospital
- Assisting with the construction of a Habitat for Humanity home
- Traveling to local elementary schools to read to children
- Hosting an April Play Day for kids at Thompson Boling-Arena
- Volunteering at local animal shelters.



COMMUNITY SERVICE

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE



Tennessee football has been among the leaders in the SEC each of the last five seasons with a total of 129 athletes being named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll.

28 football Vols were named to the Academic Honor Roll in 2008 in 15 different academic disciplines.

Tennessee has eight players in program history named ESPN The Magazine Academic All-Americans

The Draddy Award, referred to as the "Academic Heisman," has two UT athletes on its all-time winners list. The Vols are the only program in the nation to have two athletes win the award.

The Thornton Athletics Student Life Center is a 33,000 square foot state-of-the art facility for student-athletes that offers academic counseling services, career development programs, student development programs, comprehensive tutoring programs, a writing lab, math lab, computer lab, and accommodations for students with special needs.

The Champs/Life Skills Program provides student-athletes with resources for future work, workshops on personal development issues, resume building and interviewing along with community service opportunities.

The VolScholar Program awards students athletes based on curriculum research and peer mentoring. Athletes who achieve academic goals wear special uniform patch in competition.

The Renewing Academic Commitment (RAC) Program provides opportunities for former student athletes to return to campus to achieve their goal of graduation.

IN THE PLAYMAKERS HANDS

Lane Kiffin

Head coach Lane Kiffin, regarded as one of the brightest young offensive minds in football, brings his pro-style attack to Knoxville under the guidance of offensive coordinator Jim Chaney, architect of one of the most prolific offenses in the NCAA at Purdue from 1997-2005.

The UT offense under Kiffin will be tailored to the strengths of personnel recruited to Rocky Top and specialize in getting the best skill players the football as often as possible. Kiffin has a track record of doing so, as in both 2005 and 2006 his offenses featured either two 1,000-yard rushers or two 1,000-yard receivers along with a 3,000 yard passer.

Success will not be sought solely through the air, as Kiffin and Chaney, a former NFL offensive line coach, will stress physicality in the run game over everything else.

The Tennessee offense will also vary from week to week with the intention of exploiting the weaknesses of the opponent, meaning there will be opportunities every Saturday for a different Vol to step up.

Jim Chaney

ACCOUNTABILITY AND PURSUIT

Tennessee defensive coordinator Monte Kiffin, perhaps the greatest defensive mind in football and one of the most widely-respected teachers at any level, now dresses his famed Tampa 2 defense in Big Orange.

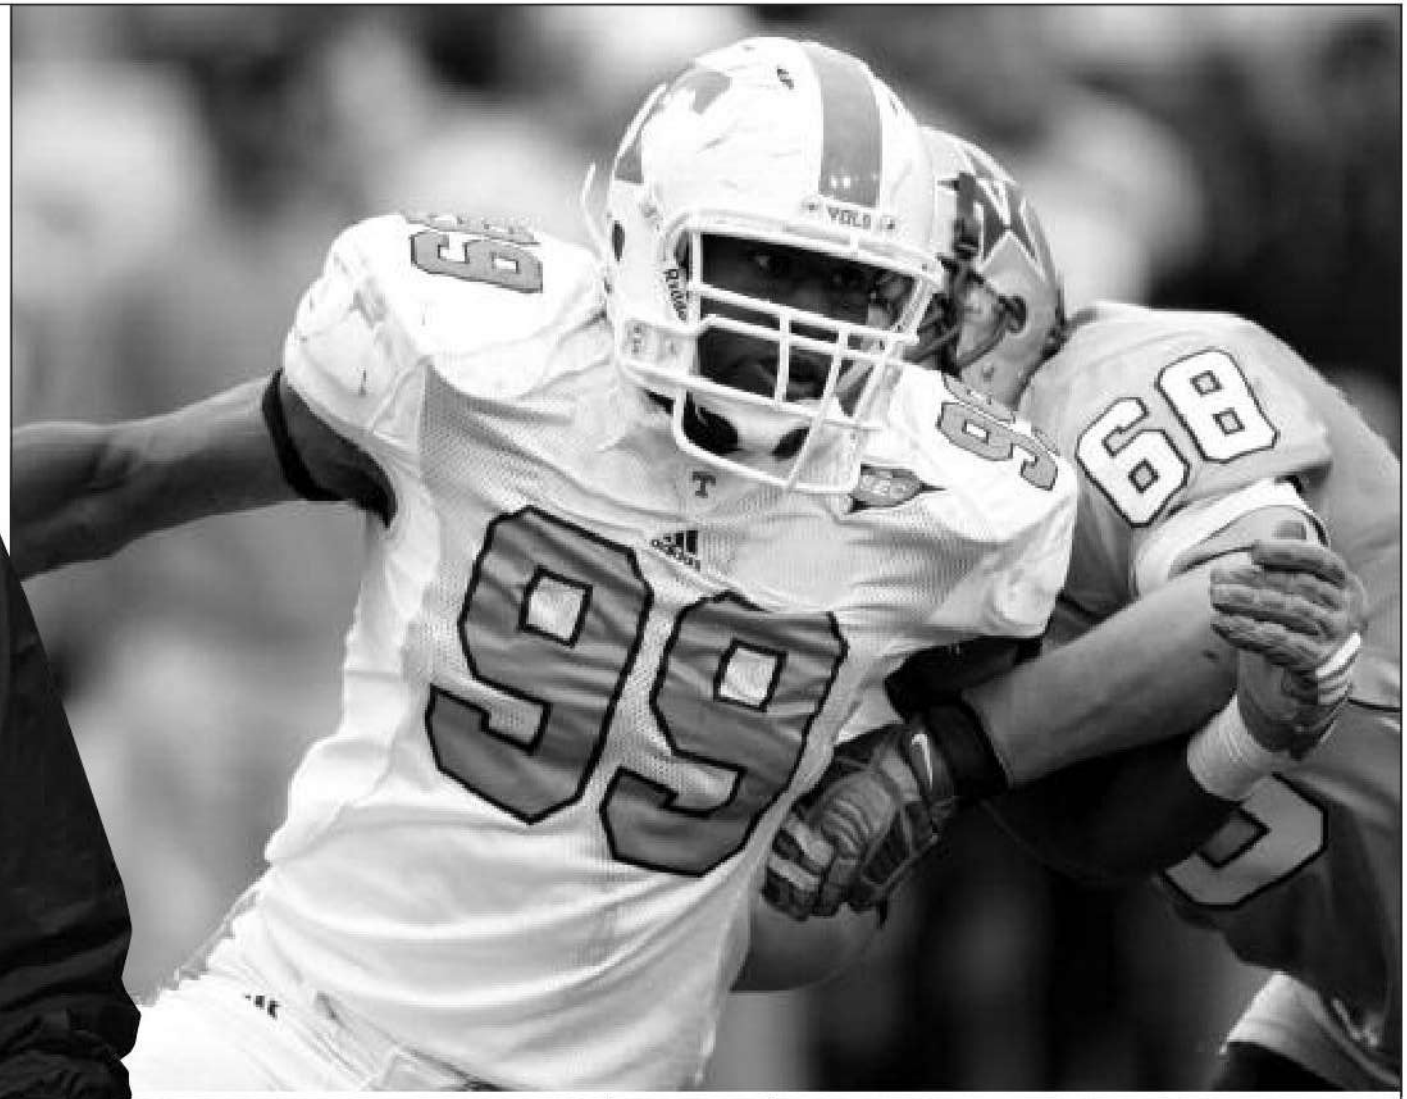
Kiffin's system is designed with simplicity in mind, so it can be learned and applied by new players as quickly as possible.

The Super Bowl winner stresses three things to players about his defense: Be Accountable, Pursue the Football, and Play Fast.

During Kiffin's Super Bowl season in 2002, his defense led the NFL in total defense, points allowed and interceptions, becoming the first defense in 17 seasons to accomplish that feat.

A veteran of more than 40 years in coaching, Kiffin still expects his charges to have fun. He suggests his defenders "think less and just play."

Monte Kiffin



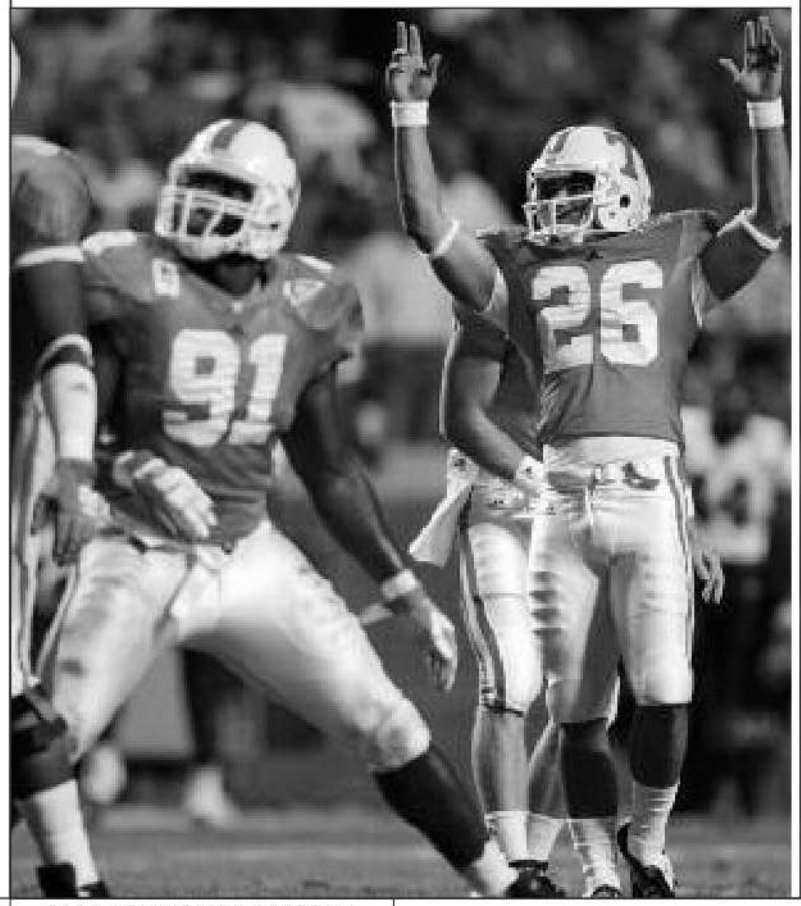
TEMPO, FIELD POSITION & MOMENTUM

Special teams coach Eddie Gran, one of the best in the profession at his craft, stresses four goals for his special teams combatants: Set the Tempo, Control Field Position, Control Momentum, Score Points.

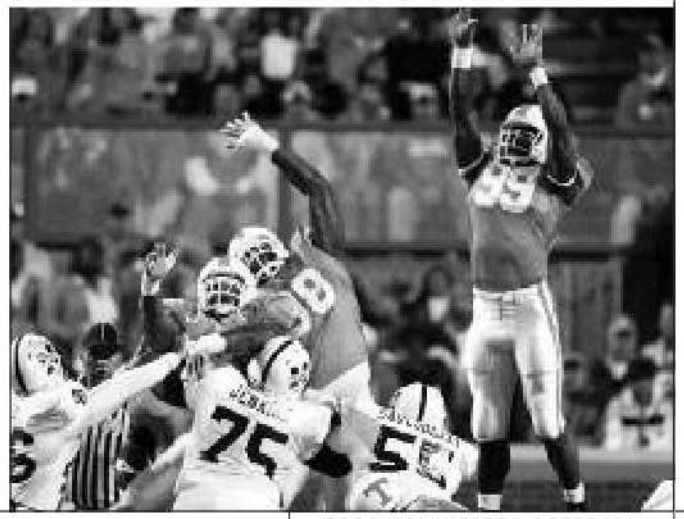
The Vols utilize an attack-oriented special teams game plan that aims to score touchdowns, breaks games open, utilize fakes and provide good field position for the offense and defense.

Tennessee will use its best players for special teams, eliminate mistakes and stress fundamentals while maintaining intensity.

The Vols will outwork, outsmart and intimidate in special teams situations.



Eddie Gran



FIVE-STAR FACILITIES

Tennessee's football facilities include a full-length indoor practice field inside the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center and an additional 150 yards of practice fields outdoors.

The Vols dress in the recently remodeled Peyton Manning Locker Complex at Neyland Stadium.

A new addition to the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center for 2009 is the players' lounge adjacent to the locker room, which features theatre seating in front of a projection television, pool tables, computer workstations and a kitchen.

The Tim Kerin Sports Medicine Facility is more than 8,000 square feet and features the most modern equipment available on the market for injury diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation. Tennessee also has full-time physicians on staff and an on-site pharmacy.

THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE

VISION:

The University of Tennessee intends to be the preeminent public research and teaching university linking the people of Tennessee to the nation and the world.

THE UNIVERSITY AT A GLANCE

- An enrollment of 27,739
- More than 8,300 faculty & staff, including 1,400 instructional personnel
- A 550 acre campus with 220 buildings
- More than 300 degree programs
- More than 300,000 alumni worldwide

TENNESSEE TRADITIONS

The Volunteer Statue

The spirit of university youth and its ideal of service, the statue was cast, placed in Circle Park, and unveiled on April 19, 1968.

THE HILL

"The Hill," the original part of the campus, is symbolic of higher education in the state of Tennessee.

TORCH NIGHT

The model for Torch Night was a candlelight ceremony for seniors at the University of South Carolina that was adapted for UT Knoxville by Vic Davis, alumni secretary, and Ralph Frost, head of the campus YMCA.

THE ROCK

Unearthed in the 1960s, the Rock soon thereafter became a "canvas" for student messages. For years the university sandblasted away the messages but eventually deferred to students' artistic endeavors.

UT SEAL

The official university seal had its beginnings in the 1800s and has taken several forms over the years. The seal has included imagery representing enlightenment, peace, and science, as well as the words "agriculture" and "commerce."

"THE STRIP"

Cumberland Avenue was one of the original Knoxville streets surveyed and platted by Charles McClung in 1791. Through the years, the street has been home to filling stations, grocery stores, clothiers, restaurants, clubs, drugstores and other neighborhood enterprises.

2009 Begins Lane Kiffin Era

Tennessee fans waste no time sizing up their coaches, rendering preliminary judgment on the mentors long before they have sent their first squad into the heat of battle.

Lane Kiffin was no exception. From the moment he took a few good-natured jabs at some of his Southeastern Conference coaching rivals, he was the people's choice in Big Orange Country. They were captivated by his feistiness, his light-hearted banter and, perhaps most of all, by his choice of sparring partners.

Kiffin's restructuring project achieved a milestone when more than 51,000 showed up for the spring Orange and White game at Neyland Stadium, which, like the football team, was also undergoing renovation.

As the succession of Big Orange Caravan trips spread the hopeful message of Kiffin and his estimable staff, the enthusiastic reception coaches encountered reaffirmed athletic director Mike Hamilton's choice as Tennessee's 21st head coach.

Now the fun part begins. We are all excitedly awaiting the identity of the Vols who will take the field to start the season opener Sept. 5 against Western Kentucky. As you may recall, Kiffin went into spring practice labeling all but one position wide open. He had awarded a job only to defensive ace Eric Berry. Nearing the start of fall camp, the head coach was still declaring most spots unfilled, awaiting August competition.

As committed as the new staff is toward its rejuvenation goal, questions remain. One thing fans need not concern themselves with, though, is the age of the head coach, 34, making him the youngest man to head a football program on the major college level.

The granddaddy of all things Tennessee, Gen. Bob Neyland, was still green when he was handed the Vols' reins at the same age as Kiffin in 1926. Nobody ever suggested Neyland proved too young for the job.

So here we go again, kicking off another season we hope will enrich the proud history of University of Tennessee football. This fact-packed yearbook, meticulously assembled by Bud Ford, John Painter, Tony Williams and the able sports information staff, should bring you up to snuff on the players, coaches, records and traditions that comprise Vol football.

Go get 'em, Lane Kiffin.

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACK

A situation in which the two top quarterbacks from the previous year return sounds made to order for a banner offensive year. But realization that neither had taken command of the position by season's end casts a less optimistic view of the picture. At one time or another both Jonathan Crompton and Nick Stephens seemed like the man for the job, but the Vols' final 5-7 worksheet left the situation very much up in the air. New Tennessee head coach Lane Kiffin and his staff indicated that determining the 2009 starter is a work in progress without an expected date for resolution. Crompton, a senior who started six games, finished with 86 completions in 167 attempts for 889 yards and four touchdowns. Stephens started the remaining games and had these statistics at the end of the season: 63-for-130, 840 yards and four touchdowns.

TAILBACK

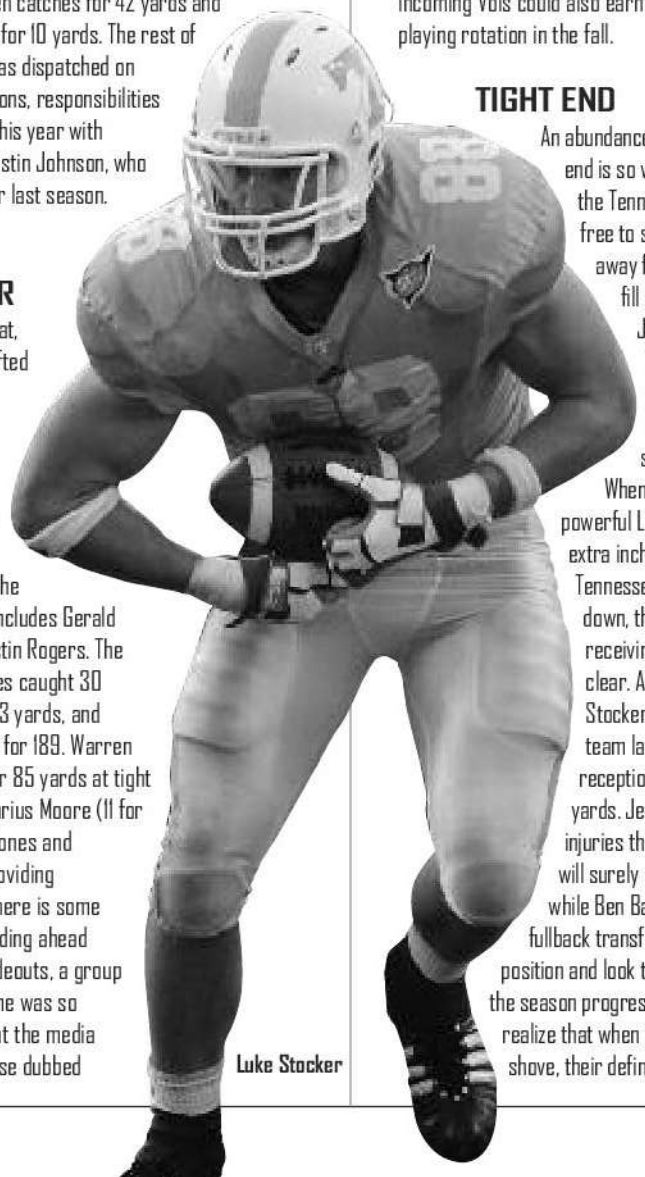
Arian Foster spent too much of his senior season sidelined to apply the closing drive that would have made him Tennessee's all-time leading rusher. His departure has opened an opportunity for one of two returnees from 2008 action to take over principal ground-gaining responsibilities in the offense. When Foster was out in 2008, Montario Hardesty, Lennon Creer and Tauren Poole generally carried the ball. Creer opted to leave the team in April. Hardesty, a powerful senior with a straight-ahead running style, picked up 271 yards on 76 carries last season, and Poole, who will be a sophomore, ground out 86 yards on 22 tries. The two returnees battled throughout spring practice with January-enrollee Toney Williams, each hoping to gain an edge. Little will be known about what the future holds at running back until fall drills signal the assembly of a full cast of job-seekers, including some highly-touted incoming freshmen.

FULLBACK

Fullback was a position once renowned at Tennessee for power running. Nowadays, it's a pass here, a run there, but mostly blocking. Fullback returnee Kevin Cooper, a junior who started all but one game last year, had seven catches for 42 yards and ran five times for 10 yards. The rest of the time, he was dispatched on blocking missions, responsibilities he will share this year with sophomore Austin Johnson, who earned a letter last season.

WIDE RECEIVER

Right off the bat, Lane Kiffin shifted tight end returnee Brandon Warren to wide receiver to help give substance to the position that includes Gerald Jones and Austin Rogers. The explosive Jones caught 30 passes for 323 yards, and Rogers had 14 for 189. Warren (10 catches for 85 yards at tight end) and Denarius Moore (11 for 271) will join Jones and Rodgers in providing experience. There is some serious rebuilding ahead among the wideouts, a group that at one time was so prodigious that the media with good cause dubbed Tennessee Wide Receiver U. One athlete who the coaches believe can take steps in that direction is Quinton Hancock, who was elected the most improved offensive player during spring drills. A group of three incoming Vols could also earn their way into the playing rotation in the fall.



Luke Stocker

An abundance of talent at tight end is so well established that the Tennessee coaches felt free to switch two players away from the position to fill obvious needs.

TIGHT END

An abundance of talent at tight end is so well established that the Tennessee coaches felt free to switch two players away from the position to fill obvious needs. Junior Brandon Warren moved to wide receiver and Aaron Douglas switched to tackle. When the lanky and powerful Luke Stocker lunges extra inches to keep the ball in Tennessee's hands on third down, the importance of his receiving ability becomes clear. A two-year letterman, Stocker ranked sixth on the team last year in total receptions with 13 for 139 yards. Jeff Cottam, battling injuries throughout the spring, will surely contribute in the fall, while Ben Bartholomew, a fullback transfer, will learn the position and look to provide depth as the season progresses. All three Vols realize that when push comes to shove, their defining duty is to clear the path for quarterbacks and runners. In the meantime, however, they are receptive and capable if a football is flung in their direction.

DEFENSE

CENTER

This fall, with veteran center Josh McNeil and mature signal-callers on hand, the center-quarterback snap should be exactly that – a snap. That is, of course, unless walk-on Cody Sullins takes the starting job from the three-year starter. The two exited spring practice bracketed on the depth chart, and Sullins earned the start in the annual spring game. McNeil started every game last season and knows what to do, a talent that is celebrated by quarterbacks Jonathan Crompton and Nick Stephens. Sullins has come on strong, though, and the coaches consider both options more than viable entering fall camp.

GUARD

Vladimir Richard moved into the starting contingent at left guard midway through the 2008 season. He held onto the first-team job the rest of the season and in spring practice gained the confidence of the first-year Vols coaching staff. Although Jacques McClendon started only the first six games in 2008, his return gives the Vols a pair of guards who know what it takes to be a starter. From their vast experience in the trenches, Richard and McClendon give the Vols a leg up on opponents dealing with less seasoned personnel. Also in the mix at guard are sophomore Cody Pope, junior letterman Jarrod Shaw, and Cory Sullins, a senior walk-on and letterman who could earn playing time on the left side.

Vladimir Richard

TACKLE

The Tennessee coaches are trying to assemble an offensive line with the speed and agility to carry the run game and enough staying power for the quarterback to remain upright. Chris Scott is a 2008 returnee, one of three regulars from last year's team hoping to call on their experience to enhance their value in Lane Kiffin's first year at the UT controls. Scott was in the opening lineup for every game last season, UCLA through Kentucky. Depth at the tackle position was strengthened by the decision to move Aaron Douglas over from tight end. He now is in competition with Jarrod Shaw for a starting job on the right side of the line. Filling out the roster at tackle are sophomore William Brimfield and redshirt freshman Dallas Thomas. Further reinforcements could come from two offensive linemen in the enrolling class of newcomers.

DEFENSIVE END

The Vols have been so formidable at defensive end that it's almost considered a given that the same will apply in 2009. But Robert Ayers, who stood head and shoulders above his teammates last year, is gone, taking his 15 tackles for loss with him, and Wes Brown, the starter on the other side, has moved inside to defensive tackle. Those departures leave just two others with experience at end: Ben Martin, a two-year letterman, and Chris Walker, Martin's fellow junior. Walker was named the most improved defensive player in spring drills and was described as "unblockable" on multiple occasions by the coaching staff. Others vying for playing time include Willie Bohannon, Steven Fowlkes and junior college transfer Rae Sykes. UT's searches for defensive ends frequently begin on shaky ground but almost always wind up with happy endings.

DEFENSIVE TACKLE

Talk about a wide-open situation. Left defensive tackle has all the ingredients. The departed Demonte Bolden started all but one game last year, leaving little opportunity for his teammates to carve out playing time. So it should be an exciting battle to uncover a replacement for the man who ranked 11th among the Vols with 35 tackles. Things are different at right tackle, where a senior with all-star potential is back on the job. Massive Dan Williams was a steady force with 48 tackles including 8 1/2 for lost yardage and a crucial nine quarterback hurries. Williams is counted on to be a big-play artist for the Vols, joining defensive end transfer Wes Brown as potential playmakers in a rebuilt defensive line. Others on the tackle roster entering fall camp include senior Andre Mathis, juniors Chase Nelson and Victor Thomas and freshman Montori Hughes, who was impressive in spring workouts. There are also some promising prospects listed on the incoming roster.

LINEBACKER

The return of Rico McCoy assures Tennessee strong representation at one of the linebacker slots, a position group weakened by the loss of two starters from 2008 in Ellix Wilson and Nevin McKenzie. McCoy, a seasoned defensive star, opened every game at weak linebacker in 2008 and ranked as the team's No. 2 tackler with 87 tackles, 3 1/2 for lost yardage and one sack. McCoy could be the heartbeat of a defense that scored well statistically last season but suffered the fate of being part of a 5-7 football team. At the other positions, the coaches are trying to develop players who can start or serve as backups. Junior Nick Reveiz, who has demonstrated a flair for mayhem in a kick-coverage role in the past, made a strong bid to start during the spring, as did tackle specialist LaMarcus Thompson, also a junior. Others competing at linebacker include junior Savion Frazier, sophomores Chris Donald, Josh Hawkins and Daryl Vereen and freshmen Herman Lathers and Nigel Mitchell-Thornton.

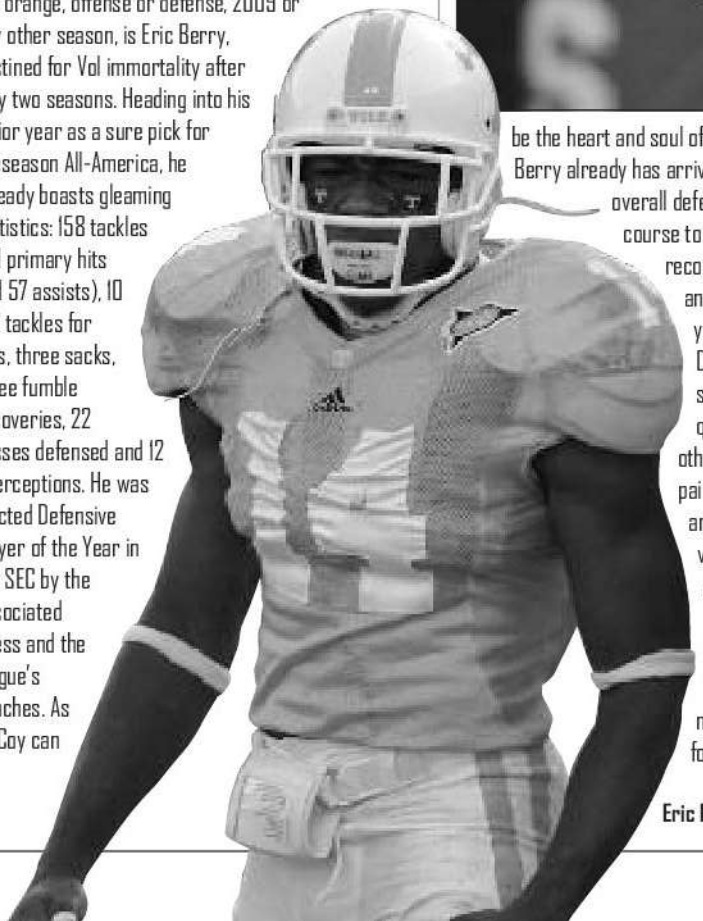
CORNERBACK

From the moment he first set foot on the football field, Dennis Rogan has been a key performer for Tennessee. Not only did he bring competence to the kick return game, but he moved into the right cornerback position with telling results. He notched 53 tackles last season, bringing a star element to a secondary that is already heralded mainly because of the presence of Eric Berry at free safety. Finding a replacement for the departed DeAngelo Willingham at the other corner spot will be a primary order of business for the Vols coaching staff this fall. Among the numerous candidates for action will be senior Marsalous Johnson, junior Brent Vinson -- who was a starter in 2007 – and sophomores Anthony Anderson, Art Evans, C.J. Fleming, and Stephaun Raines. Johnson, Evans and Vinson have seen enough action that they will arrive at fall camp as returning lettermen.

SAFETY

One of the most outstanding performers ever to wear the orange, offense or defense, 2009 or any other season, is Eric Berry, destined for Vol immortality after only two seasons. Heading into his junior year as a sure pick for preseason All-America, he already boasts gleaming statistics: 158 tackles (101 primary hits and 57 assists), 10 1/2 tackles for loss, three sacks, three fumble recoveries, 22 passes defensed and 12 interceptions. He was elected Defensive Player of the Year in the SEC by the Associated Press and the league's coaches. As McCoy can be the heart and soul of the linebacker corps, Berry already has arrived at that station for overall defense. He is also on course to break school and NCAA records for interceptions and interception return yardage. The departure of Demetrice Morley during spring drills leaves question marks at the other safety spot, with a pair of freshmen, Rod Wilks and Prentiss Waggner, vying for playing time during spring drills.

Dennis Rogan



Eric Berry

SPECIALISTS

One of the revered names in Tennessee football, the Colquitt family, will not have a representative on the field for the first time since the 2000 season. Britton Colquitt, with his 43.4 yards-per-punt average, has moved on, leaving the punts to Chad Cunningham, who notched 39.5 yards per boot last season in Colquitt's absence. Daniel Lincoln, who connected on 10 of 18 field goal tries last year, returns, hoping to regain the form that made him an All-America his freshman season. Dennis Rogan is on pace to become one of Tennessee's all-time best kick returners, but the influx of skill-position newcomers may mean that all kick-return positions are up for grabs in fall camp. Rogan averaged 4.8 yards per return on punt returns and 24.9 yards per return on kickoffs last season. Gerald Jones' averages were 10.0 and 38.3 for punts and kicks, respectively.

Head Coach

From his introductory press conference — the day he began "rolling my sleeves up and going to work" — Lane Kiffin's guiding principle for Tennessee football has kept him mindful of its storied past.

And focused squarely on its future.

Kiffin, who becomes just the third head coach at UT in the last 33 years, had a plan for Tennessee's expectations even before he made his arrival in Knoxville. His blueprint for an all-star coaching staff already has come to fruition. And that team of one-time rivals has begun formulating its platform for championship competition not only in the rabid Southeastern Conference but across the nation.

"I'm not promising you how many wins, how many championships; I can't do that," Kiffin said back on Dec. 1, 2008. "But I want the Tennessee family to know this: no one is going to outwork me as a head coach and no one is going to outwork our staff. That's the promise I'm giving you. The wins will come after that. You're going to see it; you're going to feel it throughout the state. It starts today."

Kiffin joins the Vols as the former head coach of the Oakland Raiders and former offensive coordinator at Southern California under head coach Pete Carroll.

Kiffin's turn with Oakland was his first head coaching assignment, and his concepts moving the football paid immediate dividends. The season before Kiffin's arrival, Oakland was last in the NFL in scoring (10.5), total offense (246.2), yards per play (4.2), touchdown passes (7) and turnover margin (minus-23). The Raiders ranked 31st in passing offense and 29th in rushing.

In 2007, Kiffin improved offensive production to 17.7 points per game — an increase of more than a touchdown — and rushing to 130.4 yards per game. The sudden improvement was felt throughout the league.

"Coach Kiffin is a perfect fit," Tennessee Titans head coach Jeff Fisher said. "He brings a wealth of experience he's accumulated at a very young age. He has a brilliant football mind, and there's no doubt in my mind he's going to be successful."

Those ideas were formulated at Fisher's alma mater, USC, where Kiffin presided over the vaunted offensive system that featured a long, medium and short-range passing game coupled with a power running attack. He began as an assistant from 2001-04, then was promoted to passing game coordinator in 2004 and served as offensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator for 2005 and 2006.

USC led the nation in offense in 2005 and in both of his years as recruiting coordinator had the best recruiting classes in the nation. Those efforts, along with his play-calling, structure and offensive design, helped the Trojans to back-to-back national college football championships and produced two Heisman Trophy winners — Matt Leinart in 2004 and Reggie Bush in 2005.

"He was the mastermind for our offense, which was very productive at USC," Bush said of his former coach. "He has a lot of coaching experience. He has a great foundation and I think he's going to be a great head coach."

Under Kiffin's leadership in 2006, the Trojans finished first in the Pacific-10 Conference in passing efficiency, produced two 1,000-yard receivers and a 3,000-yard passer. In 2005, Kiffin was named one of the nation's top 25 recruiters and served as coordinator for an offense that ranked in the top six nationally in every offensive category. The Trojans scored 50 points a school-record seven times.

Kiffin's play-calling and offensive design enabled Bush to capture the 2005 Heisman and the Trojans to become the first school to have a 3,500-yard passer, a pair of 1,000-yard rushers and a 1,000-yard receiver. In 2004, Kiffin coached on a staff that led Southern California to its second straight national title. He was in charge of a passing attack that helped Leinart win the Heisman with 3,322 yards passing and 33 touchdowns.

Kiffin also mentored All-America wide receivers Mike Williams and Dwayne Jarrett, along with such notable USC and NFL pass-catchers as Keary Colbert, Steve Smith and Kareem Kelly.

As the recruiting coordinator in 2005-06, Kiffin helped the Trojans land back-to-back No. 1-ranked recruiting classes, both of which helped Southern Cal to maintain their dominance in the Pac-10 and nationally.

The Trojans were a modest 6-6 in 2001, Kiffin's first year on the staff, but went a remarkable 59-6 over his final five seasons in Los Angeles. That magical run under head coach Pete Carroll resulted in five straight BCS bowl appearances — twice in the BCS National Championship Game.

"I have no doubt that Lane will do great things at UT," Carroll said. "He handled all of our national recruiting at USC and brought us great players during our championship seasons. While serving as our offensive coordinator, we had the best offense in the history of football in 2005."

Kiffin, who is 34, was the youngest head coach in modern NFL history and now stands as the youngest head coach in major college football. To help make the transition to Knoxville and the SEC, Kiffin assembled one of the most impressive assistant coaching staff's in football history.

His father, Monte, takes over as Tennessee's defensive coordinator after 26 brilliant seasons in the NFL, the last 13 with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Kiffin was the longest tenured defensive coordinator in the NFL and, as developer of the Tampa Cover 2 defense, is generally considered one of the modern era's best defensive minds.

"As a coach with a background in offense, it was imperative to find the best defensive coordinator we could," Lane Kiffin said. "We feel we got the best defensive coach at any level. The addition of Coach Kiffin not only puts us in position to play great defense, but also gives us the ability to sign the best defensive players in the nation if they want to be prepared for the NFL every day they are here."

The Vols also added Ed Orgeron of the New Orleans Saints (and formerly head coach at Mississippi) as assistant head coach, defensive line coach and recruiting coordinator; Jim Chaney from the St. Louis Rams as offensive coordinator; Lance Thompson from Alabama coaching linebackers; Frank Wilson from Southern Mississippi coaching wide receivers; Willie Mack Garza from North Dakota State coaching defensive backs; Eddie Gran from Auburn coaching running backs; James Cregg from the Oakland Raiders coaching the offensive line and tight ends; and David Reaves from South Carolina coaching quarterbacks.

Six of Tennessee's nine assistant coaches previously served as recruiting coordinators.

Before going to USC, Kiffin was on the staff of Tom Coughlin's Jacksonville Jaguars in 2000 as a defensive quality control coach under Dom Capers. The season before, Kiffin was a graduate assistant at Colorado State, working with the offensive line.

Kiffin played quarterback at Fresno State for three seasons (1994-96), where his position coach was current California head coach Jeff Tedford. Kiffin began his coaching career at his alma mater as a student assistant, working parts of two seasons with quarterbacks, wide receivers and defensive backs.

"Lane Kiffin has prepared himself through hard work and preparation and has become one of the brightest minds in football," Tedford said. "He understands what it takes to reach a championship level and has the passion and work ethic to make it happen."

Kiffin takes over the Vols' helm from Phillip Fulmer, who compiled a 152-52 record for Tennessee over 17 seasons that included two SEC crowns and the 1998 BCS national championship.

"He's done an unbelievable job here and I can't even imagine what he's gone through giving 35 years of his life to this university," Kiffin said. "I'm extremely honored to follow him. The University of Tennessee football program wouldn't be anywhere near where it is today without him."

A native of Bloomington, Minn., Kiffin is married to Layla Reaves Kiffin and they have three children: daughters Landry and Presley, and newborn son Knox.

Ed Orgeron

Assistant Head Coach
Recruiting Coordinator
Defensive Line

Ed Orgeron returns to college football as Tennessee's assistant head coach, recruiting coordinator and defensive line coach.

The Larose, La., native spent last season as defensive line coach for the New Orleans Saints following more than 20 years in the collegiate game. Included in that tenure was a three-year turn as head coach at Mississippi after successful assistant coaching stops at Miami, Syracuse and Southern California.

Vols head coach Lane Kiffin and Orgeron were assistant coaches together under USC head coach Pete Carroll from 2001-04.

"When Lane was mentioned as a possibility for being the head coach at UT, there was no doubt in my mind that I wanted to join him," Orgeron said. "When he got the best defensive coordinator in the history of college football to join him in Monte Kiffin, I knew this was a place that I wanted to come."

Orgeron long has been regarded as a premier defensive line coach and recruiter. He stockpiled talent during his three seasons at Ole Miss after playing a key role in the Trojans winning national championships in 2003 and 2004. Orgeron joined the USC staff in January 1998, took on the added responsibility of recruiting coordinator for the Trojans in 2001, and was then named assistant head coach in 2003. USC's 2002, 2003 and 2004 recruiting classes were ranked among the nation's top five, with the 2003 and 2004 groups listed by many as No. 1. Orgeron was named the 2004 National Recruiter of the Year by Sporting News and Rivals.com.

"It was extremely, extremely important to get Ed Orgeron for two main reasons," Kiffin said. "No. 1, he's the best defensive line coach in the country, NFL or college. We are able to bring in somebody who has put a number of first-round picks into the NFL, who's coached guys, put them on the field right away and made them the best players they could be to get them ready for the day they go to the NFL.

"No. 2, he's best recruiter anywhere, anywhere in the country, any conference. If you look at the SEC right now, one of the most talented teams in the SEC is Ole Miss. Ed Orgeron, as everyone knows here, put that team together and you see what's happening with that team right now."

During his seven years at USC, the Trojans played in five bowls including BCS appearances in the 2003 Orange, 2004 Rose and 2005 Orange bowls.

Prior to joining the USC staff, Orgeron was defensive line coach at Syracuse from 1995-97. He came to the Orange from Nicholls State, where he was the linebackers coach in 1994.

Orgeron was also a one-year graduate assistant and then the defensive line coach at Miami from 1988-92, coaching eight All-Americas in that time including NFL first-rounders Cortez Kennedy, Russell Maryland and Warren Sapp. During his tenure at Miami, the Hurricanes won the 1989 and 1991 national championships while appearing in five straight New Year's Day bowls -- 1989 and 1992 Orange, 1990 and 1993 Sugar, and 1991 Cotton.

Orgeron got his start in coaching as a graduate assistant at Northwestern State, his alma mater, in 1984 and also was a graduate assistant at McNeese State in 1985, working with the defensive line at both schools. He then served as an assistant strength coach at Arkansas from 1986-87.

After compiling an outstanding prep career in football, basketball and track at South Lafourche High School in Galliano, La., Orgeron went on to become a four-year starting defensive lineman at Northwestern State, captaining the Demons as a senior. Orgeron recently was named to Northwestern State's Top 100 Players in 100 Years of Demon Football.

Orgeron and his wife, Kelly, have three sons, Tyler, 17, and 11-year-old twins Parker and Cody.

"We feel we got the best defensive coach at any level," head coach Lane Kiffin said. "The addition of Monte Kiffin not only puts us in position to play great defense, but also gives us the ability to sign the best defensive players in the nation if they want to prepare for the NFL every year they are here."

Kiffin was a catalyst for Tampa Bay's 2002 Super Bowl championship and coached units that ranked among the NFL's top 10 in both total defense and points allowed in 11 of his 13 Buccaneer seasons.

His Super Bowl champion unit became the first since the 1985 Chicago Bears to lead the league in total defense (252.8 ypg), fewest points allowed (196) and total interceptions (31). Kiffin's crew continued its impressive play in the 2002 postseason, allowing just 16 points in victories over San Francisco and Philadelphia, before turning it up a notch in Super Bowl XXXVII. During the Buccaneers' 48-21 win over Oakland, Tampa Bay recorded a Super Bowl-record five interceptions, including three picks that were returned for touchdowns (also a Super Bowl record). Kiffin's charges added five sacks and allowed only 19 total rushing yards in capping one of the most dominating defensive performances in Super Bowl history.

Kiffin now returns to the collegiate ranks at Tennessee, where, in fact, he previously considered a position with the Vols under then head coach Johnny Majors.

"I was last here in 1983 when I was under consideration for the defensive coordinator's job," Kiffin said. "I chose instead the Green Bay Packers to start my NFL career, but this was an impressive place. Now that I'm back 25 years later, it's bigger and even more amazing than I remember."

A native of Lexington, Neb., Kiffin was his state's High School Athlete of the Year in 1958. Then after playing collegiately for the Nebraska Cornhuskers from 1959-63 as both an offensive and defensive tackle, Kiffin sat out one season with a knee injury before taking a turn at defensive end for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League.

He then began his coaching career in 1966 at his alma mater under a pair of legends in Bob Devaney and Tom Osborne. Kiffin first helped command the Big Red defense to consecutive national titles in 1970 and 1971. When Osborne became Nebraska's head coach in 1973, Kiffin was named defensive coordinator. Kiffin moved to Arkansas as defensive coordinator under Lou Holtz from 1977-79, including one season as assistant head coach. The Razorbacks led the nation in scoring defense in 1977.

Kiffin was head coach at North Carolina State from 1980-82, compiling a 16-17 record that included winning seasons in 1981 and 1982.

From there, it was on to the professional ranks, including stops with the Green Bay Packers under Bart Starr in 1983, the Buffalo Bills from 1984-85, the Minnesota Vikings from 1986-89 and the New York Jets in 1990. Kiffin then returned to the Vikings, first in his initial professional role as defensive coordinator in 1991 before spending the 1992-94 seasons as inside linebackers coach. The 1995 campaign as defensive coordinator for the New Orleans Saints was Kiffin's last before moving to Tampa Bay.

Kiffin and his wife, Robin, have three children, including daughter Heidi and sons Lane and Chris; and four grandchildren, Preston, Landry, Presley and Knox. Chris currently serves as an intern at the University of Nebraska.

Jim Chaney
Offensive Coordinator
Tight Ends

Jim Chaney arrives in Knoxville as offensive coordinator from the NFL ranks, having spent the past three seasons as assistant coach for the St. Louis Rams.

The majority of Chaney's coaching experience, however, comes from the collegiate ranks. His coaching and recruiting turns at Purdue, Wyoming and Cal State Fullerton made him the perfect fit for head coach Lane Kiffin's all-star coaching lineup.

"Jim has been huge for us during this first offseason," Kiffin said. "On the field, he has the ability to oversee the entire offense and can coach all the positions. He's also an experienced recruiter and relates well to today's athletes on both the collegiate and professional levels."

Chaney spent all three years in St. Louis coaching the offensive line before adding tight ends to his assignment sheet in 2008. During the 2007 campaign, Chaney helped coach an offensive line that led running back Steven Jackson to his third consecutive 1,000-yard season.

Now, it's back to the collegiate level of football players, although Chaney says that shouldn't matter.

"I can't tell the difference, to be real honest with you. It is amazing to me that at any level of football when you walk out of the locker room, most football players love to play the game. When you love to do something, you are naturally inquisitive. They want to be coached. Our football team here wants to be coached, and it's been a real satisfying thing."

Possessing one of college football's best offensive minds, Chaney helped the Boilermakers lead the Big Ten in passing offense five times and total offense three. Purdue was ranked in the top 10 in the nation in total offense in six seasons, including 2000, when the Boilermakers ranked fourth.

Quarterback Drew Brees, a second-round draft pick by the San Diego Chargers in 2001, was the NCAA total offense champion in 2000, averaging 349.1 yards per game, and received the Maxwell Award as the nation's outstanding player. Tim Stratton received the inaugural John Mackey Award as the nation's best tight end in 2000.

More importantly, the 2000 combination of Chaney and Brees under head coach Joe Tiller led Purdue to its first Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl berth in 33 years.

From 1997-2001, Chaney served as recruiting coordinator and helped the Boilermakers sign some of the country's top high school talent. The 1998 class was ranked second in the Big Ten and 11th nationally. Each of Chaney's last five classes was in the top 30 nationally.

Chaney previously coached the tight ends from 1999-2001. He coached the offensive line in 1997, 1998 and 2002 and was co-offensive coordinator with Tim Lappano in 1997.

Before his Purdue tenure, Chaney was offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Wyoming in 1995 and 1996. He joined the Cowboys in 1993 as a graduate assistant, working with the tight ends and recruiting.

Chaney broke into coaching at Cal State Fullerton in 1985. He served in many areas, including offensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator as well as coaching quarterbacks, receivers, and both lines. Chaney had a stint as the offensive line coach at Western Michigan during the spring of 1988 before returning to Cal State Fullerton.

Chaney, a native of Holden, Mo., earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Central Missouri State in 1985 after a career at nose guard, where he earned All-Conference honors as a senior. He is married to Lisa, who hails from Rock Springs, Wyo., and they are the parents of daughters Elizabeth, 11, and Sara, 7.

Eddie Gran

Special Teams Coordinator
Running Backs

Eddie Gran's success coaching the running game and his familiarity with the Southeastern Conference made him a key component for head coach Lane Kiffin's initial Tennessee staff.

Gran spent the last 15 seasons as an assistant under Tommy Tuberville, first at Mississippi and then Auburn. Gran coached running backs at both stops and added special teams duties to his Auburn assignment. He coaches running backs and special teams at Tennessee.

If he produces the same success in the offensive backfield that he has for the past decade, Vols fans are in for a treat. Seven NFL running backs tutored under Gran at some point in their careers, among them Carnell Williams, Ronnie Brown, Rudi Johnson and Deuce McAllister. Williams was an All-America at Auburn and earned 2005 NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year, while Brown and McAllister were NFL first-round picks and Johnson earned 2000 SEC Player of the Year.

Brown, Johnson and McAllister all have played in the Pro Bowl.

Other former Gran-coached professionals who have earned elite status include John Avery, who went from Ole Miss to the NFL to stardom in the Canadian Football League; and Brandon Jacobs, an Auburn Tiger who has compiled back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons with the New York Giants.

Under Gran's guidance, Williams set the Auburn career record for rushing touchdowns and teamed with Brown to help Auburn lead the SEC in scoring offense in 2004. Kenny Irons picked up the following year where those two left off by gaining 1,205 yards — the fifth time in six years Gran coached a 1,000-yard running back.

Gran also produced an SEC Special Teams Player of the Year in Auburn kicker John Vaughn, who won the award in 2006. That same season, Gran's special teams units led the SEC in kickoff coverage, field goal percentage, PAT percentage and punting.

Before coming to Ole Miss, Gran coached wide receivers at Idaho State in 1994 and Cincinnati from 1992-93. His first coaching job was at his alma mater, Cal Lutheran, from 1987-88, followed by a one-year stint at Southeast Missouri State in 1989. A pair of graduate assistantships followed at East Carolina and Miami before returning to full-time capacity at Cincinnati.

Gran played four seasons as a wideout at Cal Lutheran, graduating with a business administration degree in 1987.

Gran is married to the former Rosemary Scaife of Elaine, Ark. They are the parents of daughters Hannah, Dillan, Lucy Grace and the late Sydney.

James Cregg
Offensive Line

James Cregg comes to Knoxville having spent his career coaching both sides of the line of scrimmage, experiences that are making a difference as he takes command of Tennessee's offensive line positions.

Cregg's most recent coaching responsibility was for the last two seasons as an offensive line assistant with the Oakland Raiders. He helped the 2007 Oakland squad under then-head coach Lane Kiffin finish sixth in the NFL in rushing and inside-the-20 touchdown percentage.

Before joining the Raiders, Cregg spent three seasons coaching the defensive line at Idaho. His final season of 2006 for the Vandals was under the tutelage of Dennis Erickson, now the head coach at Arizona State.

Cregg coached the defensive line at Colgate from 2000-03, where, in his final season, the Division I-AA squad advanced undefeated to the national championship game. The Raiders' title-game loss to Delaware ended a school-record 21-game winning streak stretching to the middle of the 2002 season.

Colgate finished in the top 10 nationally in rushing defense during Cregg's final two seasons with the Raiders. In 2003, Colgate also allowed only 16 passing touchdowns in 16 games played. During Cregg's four seasons at Colgate, the Raiders won Patriot League titles in 2002 and 2003, with the team's defense finishing first in the conference in total defense during both championship seasons.

Cregg played for and later served as a graduate assistant under Colorado State's Sonny Lubick. Cregg earned All-Western Athletic Conference honors as a senior offensive lineman for the Rams. He was a two-year starter on Colorado State's offensive line and played in two bowl games in the mid-1990s.

He then was named a graduate assistant at his alma mater from 1997-99.

The Norco, Calif., native was elected in 2001 to the Norco High School Hall of Fame.

Cregg and his wife, Dayna, who hails from Greely, Colo., have one daughter, McKenzie.

Willie Mack Garza

Defensive Backs

Willie Mack Garza brings to Tennessee a wealth of experience in the defensive secondary.

The Texas native comes to the Vols after four seasons at North Dakota State, where for the last three years he served as defensive coordinator. He was named the defensive backs coach for the Bison in February 2005.

Garza arrived at North Dakota State after one season as the defensive secondary coach at Tarleton State University.

Garza spent three seasons at TCU, coaching the Horned Frogs' cornerbacks from 2001-03. He groomed two-time all-conference cornerback Jason Goss, who tied the school record with eight interceptions during the 2002 season and tied for fifth in career picks with 14.

During Garza's stay at TCU, the Horned Frogs won the 2002 Conference USA title and played in the 2001 Galleryfurniture.com Bowl in Houston, the 2002 Liberty Bowl and 2003 Fort Worth Bowl.

Garza was defensive backs coach at Western Michigan under head coach Gary Darnell from 1997-2000. Western ended the 2000 season with a 9-3 record, dropping the Mid-American Conference championship game to Marshall. The Broncos were fourth nationally in scoring defense, ninth in total defense and 13th in passing defense.

Prior to Western Michigan, Garza was a graduate assistant at Texas from 1994-96, working with the Longhorns cornerbacks and special teams. He was a four-year starter for the Longhorns from 1988-92 as a cornerback and free safety.

He earned Southwest Conference Newcomer of the Year, an all-conference selection, and Freshman All-America in 1988. Garza played for three years under David McWilliams and one season under John Mackovic at Texas.

Garza received his bachelor's degree in social work from the University of Texas at Austin in 1993, and is working toward a master's degree in the same field.

Garza was an All-America prep running back at Refugio High School in Refugio, Texas, and three-time all-state selection as a running back and defensive back. He was inducted into the Texas High School Hall of Fame in April 2000.

David Reaves
Quarterbacks

David Reaves arrives in Knoxville after a successful tenure for most of this decade at South Carolina, where he served under head coaching legends Lou Holtz and Steve Spurrier.

Reaves coached seven seasons for the Gamecocks, including the first two as a graduate assistant. After one year as defensive backs coach under Holtz and two seasons assisting Spurrier in coaching the Gamecock quarterbacks, Reaves was handed the full-time quarterback coaching duties in the spring of 2007.

In addition, Reaves was given the duties beginning in 2006 of recruiting coordinator. He solidified his reputation as one of the top young recruiters in college football when the 2007 Gamecock signees formed a consensus top-10 class and were regarded as the most highly touted recruiting class in school history. Following the February signing day, Reaves was selected as one of the top 25 recruiters in the country by Rivals.com.

In 2007, the Gamecocks threw for more than 3,000 yards and averaged 258.2 yards per game through the air with senior Blake Mitchell and redshirt freshman Chris Smelley sharing time under center. In 2006, the South Carolina quarterbacks, primarily Blake Mitchell and Syvelle Newton, combined to throw for 3,259 yards, an average of 250.7 yards per game. In 2005, Reaves assisted with the development of quarterback Blake Mitchell, who threw for 2,370 yards, the seventh-highest single season total in school history.

Reaves spent his first full-time collegiate coaching season of 2004 working with the Carolina safeties.

Reaves, who grew up in Columbia, S.C., served as an assistant head coach at Tampa (Fla.) Catholic High School for one season prior to coming to Carolina. He was team captain and a three-year starter at quarterback for Appalachian State University, where he helped lead the Mountaineers to three straight national playoff berths. Reaves was a standout quarterback at Spring Valley High School, graduating in 1997.

Lance Thompson
Linebackers

Lance Thompson arrives in Knoxville the owner of a championship pedigree.

The Riverdale, Ga., native helped mold national title-winners at Georgia Tech and LSU, and spent the last two seasons rejuvenating Alabama's fortunes toward the SEC elite as outside linebackers coach and recruiting specialist. All told, Thompson has been a member of two SEC championship coaching staffs, two ACC championship staffs and one Conference USA divisional winner.

Thompson owns two separate coaching stints alongside Crimson Tide head coach Nick Saban, having originally joined Saban at LSU for the 2002-03 seasons before rejoining him at Alabama in 2007. He served LSU as the assistant head coach in charge of recruiting and tight ends for the Tigers during their national championship season in 2003. Thompson began his tenure at LSU in 2002 as the defensive line coach. In his first year with the Tigers, Thompson coached defensive tackle Chad Lavalais to All-SEC first team honors as the Tigers' front four racked up 22 sacks.

From there, Thompson spent three years as defensive coordinator at Central Florida. In 2005, Thompson's defense produced a pair of All-Conference USA first-team selections in defensive end Paul Carrington and cornerback Joe Burnett. The Golden Knights also were 2005 Conference USA Eastern Division champions.

The Georgia native developed one of the nation's youngest defenses in 2004 that battled constant injuries into a respectable unit by the end of the season. The Golden Knights held their opposition to 21 points or less in three of the final four games of the season.

Thompson previously served as Alabama's defensive line coach in 1999-2000, helping the Crimson Tide to the 1999 SEC Championship and a berth in the Orange Bowl.

He coached for four seasons on head coach George O'Leary's staff at Georgia Tech. In 2001, Thompson coached a defensive line that recorded 21 sacks for the Yellow Jackets, including 10 by All-America defensive end Greg Gathers.

Prior to his first two-year stint at Alabama, Thompson was a part of the Georgia Tech staff for 11 years. During his stay with the Yellow Jackets, Thompson was defensive line coach in 1998; defensive ends coach in 1996 and 1997 and tight ends coach in 1995. Thompson served as Georgia Tech's recruiting coordinator from 1995-98 and then again in 2001. Prior to serving as an on-field coach for the Yellow Jackets, Thompson held the position of Director of Football Operations at Georgia Tech from 1992-94.

Thompson got his start in coaching in 1988, serving as a graduate assistant for two years at Georgia Tech, followed by two more years as a volunteer assistant in 1990 and 1991. Thompson coached the defensive ends, including former All-American and All-Pro Marco Coleman, as Georgia Tech won the 1990 national championship.

As a player, Thompson was a four-year letterman at The Citadel, where he earned his bachelor's degree in education and mathematics in 1987. A native of Riverdale, Ga., Thompson is married to the former Stacy Cambron of Henderson, Ky., and the couple has three daughters — Allie, Christina and Lane.

Frank Wilson
Wide Receivers

Frank Wilson arrives at Tennessee having spent his entire coaching career in the talent-rich states of Louisiana and Mississippi.

Wilson has been an innovator and leader of young men on both the collegiate and high school levels. His most recent stops were at Southern Mississippi as running back coach and recruiting coordinator in 2008, and at Ole Miss under head coach Ed Orgeron as running backs and special teams assistant from 2005-07.

In his second year with the Rebels, Wilson's primary pupil, BenJarvus Green-Ellis, finished third in the SEC in rushing at 83.2 yards per game. Green-Ellis was named All-SEC first team by Associated Press. Under Wilson's tutelage, Green-Ellis finished the season with 1,000 yards, fourth on the Ole Miss season charts.

In Wilson's first season of working with Rebel tailbacks, Mico McSwain established an Ole Miss freshman rushing record with 612 yards in earning 2005 Freshman All-America honorable mention distinction. McSwain finished eighth in the SEC in rushing yards per game at 68.0.

Wilson came to Ole Miss after serving one year as Director of Athletics for the New Orleans Public School System. He served three seasons as head football coach and offensive coordinator at O. Perry Walker High School in that city prior to his stint as director of athletics.

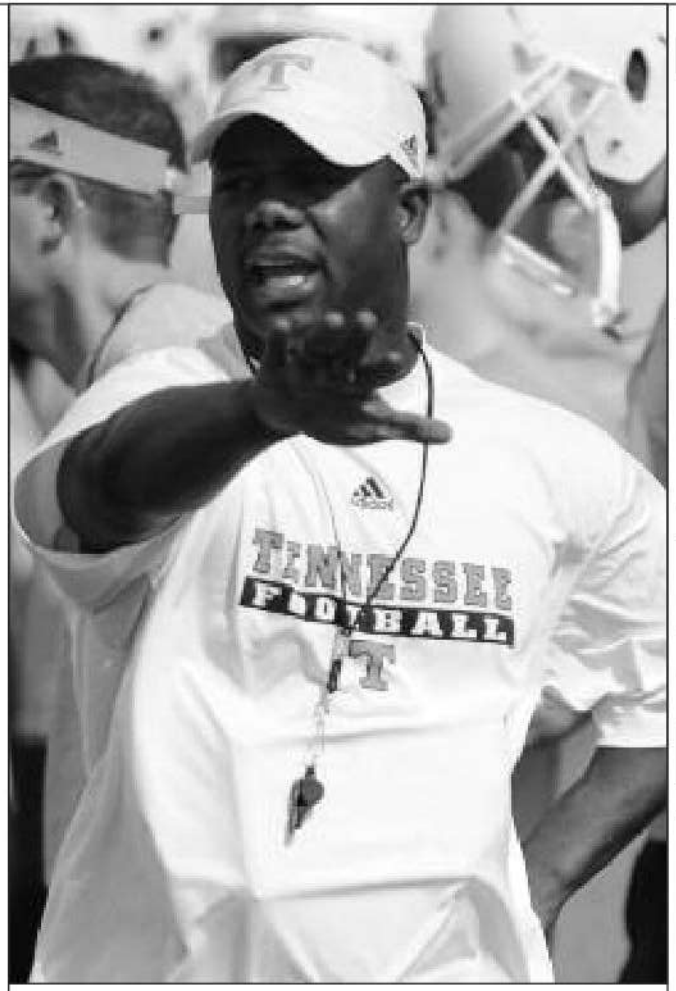
While at O. Perry Walker, Wilson led the Chargers to the 2002 Class 4A state finals and to District 10-4A championships in 2001 and 2002. He was honored by the NFL as the 2002 Coach of the Year for the state of Louisiana and was voted by his peers as the Louisiana Class 4A Coach of the Year. Wilson also was a 2002 Nike National Coach of the Year finalist.

Wilson coached the Orleans Parrish All-Star team against the Jefferson Parrish All-Star team in 2002, leading his group of players to the win in the Louisiana Superdome. He also was honored as 2001 state metro area and district coach of the year.

During his three-year stint at O. Perry Walker, Wilson helped guide 22 players to Division I scholarships, including 11 in 2002 to rank as the nation's largest class of Division I signees by any one high school.

Wilson spent three years as an assistant coach at Edna Karr High School, also in New Orleans, from 1997-2000. He served as offensive coordinator at Edna Karr during the 1999 season in which the team reached the Class 3A state finals and the offense recorded the best statistical season in the program's history.

Wilson was a student assistant at his alma mater, Nicholls State University, working with the running backs while he finished his degree. While at Nicholls State, Wilson helped coach the first 1,000-yard rusher in school history and was part of the biggest turnaround in NCAA history for the Colonels, who improved from 0-10 in 1995 to 8-2 in 1996.



A three-year letterman on the football team at Nicholls State, Wilson earned honorable mention all-conference honors as a running back his sophomore year. He was also named preseason all-conference as a defensive back his junior year and as a running back his senior year. Wilson attended Geneva University in Beaver Falls, Pa., his freshman season, earning conference Freshman of the Year honors as a tailback and kick returner. He also earned first team all-conference honors and was an NAIA Division II All-America honorable mention.

Wilson received his Bachelor of Arts degree in general education from Nicholls State in 1997. He then went on to earn a certificate of education in biology from Southern University in New Orleans in 2002.

Wilson and his wife, Tiffany, have three children: Alaina, Saibree and Frank IV.

Mitch Browning
Graduate Assistant
Offensive Line

Mitch Browning joins the Tennessee staff in 2009 as a graduate assistant coach for the offensive line.

Browning comes to Knoxville with an impressive resumé. Before a one-year stint last season as offensive coordinator at Syracuse, Browning coached 10 seasons at Minnesota, including seven as offensive coordinator. During that decade, Browning's offense turned in eight consecutive campaigns of more than 2,000 yards rushing and 2,000 yards passing.

He was a part-time assistant at North Carolina State during the 1980 and 1981 seasons under then-Wolfpack head coach Monte Kiffin, now UT's defensive coordinator. Browning's 29 years of coaching experience also includes stops at Miami (Ohio) and Ohio State as a graduate assistant, and Kent State and Kansas before his recent tenures with Minnesota and Syracuse.

The 1979 Capital University graduate was a four-year starter at linebacker and an All-Ohio Athletic Conference selection as a senior. He is married to the former Jane Gray Baldwin.

Inquoris Johnson
Graduate Assistant
Defense

Former Tennessee defensive back Inquoris "Inky" Johnson was a student coach during the 2008 season and earned a promotion in 2009 to graduate assistant.

One of the most popular student-athletes in recent Tennessee history, Johnson played defensive back from 2004-06 before suffering a serious shoulder injury that ended his on-field career. But the Atlanta native has stayed close to the program and jumped at the chance to officially enter the coaching ranks under UT's new regime. Johnson was a student coach last year and has been a key component in the transition to a new coaching staff.

Johnson played in 23 games during his UT career, with eight starts. He finished with 10 career pass breakups and intercepted a pass in Tennessee's 2006 season-opening victory over California. One week later, Johnson suffered his shoulder injury late in a win over Air Force and has fought through three long years of rehabilitation. Now, he embarks on a new career path.

David Blackburn

Senior Associate Athletics Director, Administration and Football Operations

David Blackburn continues to display his value and versatility to the University of Tennessee, having accepted the promotion to Senior Associate Athletics Director for Administration and Football Operations in February. In addition to his administration role, Blackburn also took responsibility for football operations.

"I feel that the hiring of David Blackburn is definitely one of the most significant hires we have made on our staff," head coach Lane Kiffin said. "In my few months with David, it's obvious he understands how to operate at a championship level. David has a great connection to the Tennessee Football Family, having worked for both Coach Majors and Coach Fulmer."

Blackburn's duties call for oversight of all daily football-related operations. He has personnel oversight as well as responsibility for the coordination of preseason camp, in-season practice sessions, travel, bowl arrangements and the football budget.

"As we continue to look for ways to increase efficiencies within the athletics department, this is a great opportunity for us to expand David's role while eliminating a vacant position on our staff," said Mike Hamilton, men's athletics director. "David has served as football operations director in the past and has worked closely with Coach Kiffin and his staff since their hiring. He has been a tremendous asset for me on the administration side and will become an even greater asset to UT Athletics in this increased role."

A Loudon native, Blackburn graduated from UT in 1989 after serving two years as head football student manager under head coach Johnny Majors. He joined UT Athletics in a full-time capacity in 1991 and has served in a number of roles, including five years as assistant athletics director for football administration under head coach Phillip Fulmer. His other positions include serving as assistant recruiting coordinator, administrative assistant for football, director of recruiting compliance for all men's teams, assistant athletics director for development, and associate athletics director for administration.

Heather Ervin

Assistant Director of Football Operations

Heather Ervin earned the promotion to Assistant Director for Football Operations in February.

Ervin's duties include serving as chief liaison between the coaching and Thornton Center academic staffs, assisting with daily scheduling and overseeing academic progress of current football student-athletes, under the direction of David Blackburn, UT's Senior Associate Athletics Director for Administration and Football.

The Sweetwater native joined UT Athletics in September 2001 as principal secretary and then administrative support for football operations. She holds a bachelor's degree and master's degree from Troy State University, where she played basketball and served as graduate assistant coach for two years.

She also played two years as a shooting guard at Hiwassee College in nearby Madisonville. While earning her associate's degree, Ervin helped the Tigers to a combined 57-10 record and two trips to the NJCAA national tournament in Tyler, Texas. During her days at Sweetwater High School, Ervin set 12 track and field school marks and still owns nine of those.

Ervin and her husband, Harry, also from Sweetwater, reside in Maryville with daughters, Jasmine, 6, Jada,2, and nephew Jordan, 11.

Condredge Holloway

Assistant Athletics Director
Student-Athlete Relations & Lettermen

Condredge Holloway, one of the most celebrated players in Tennessee Volunteers history, begins his 12th year on the UT staff having recently been inducted into the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame. That made eight halls of fame for the former UT quarterback and All-America shortstop, but the latest milestone was particularly significant.

"To be honored by your home state is very special and personal," said Holloway, a Huntsville native. "I visited the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame and was overwhelmed by the names of the athletes with ties to the state. The first bust I encountered was Joe Louis; the next two were Willie Mays and Hank Aaron. Just being in the same building with those men is quite an honor."

Holloway, 55, also has embarked on a new career path within the UT Athletics Department. He was named last year by athletics director Mike Hamilton to the new position of Assistant Athletics Director for Student-Athlete Relations & Lettermen.

Holloway is maintaining a number of his current duties but primarily now serves as the department's liaison with the Lettermen's Club, assisting with reunions and other projects. Public appearances on behalf of the department, always a strong suit for the popular Holloway, continue to be a major part of his job description.

Holloway also is the point person for numerous issues surrounding the conduct of a major college football program. He oversees disability insurance for the student-athletes and assists with the annual Pro Day inside the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center. And Holloway has taken great pride in helping former Vols find their niche in the business world by assisting them with contacts and employment opportunities following graduation.

Holloway remains associated in the minds of Tennessee fans with the razzle-dazzle offense he quarterbacked during his undergraduate days of the 1970s. Nicknamed "The Artful Dodger," Holloway packed excitement into every play, whether it developed into a pass or a ground-gaining scramble.

In his three seasons (1972-74) as a starter, Holloway directed the Vols to the 1972 Astro-Bluebonnet, 1973 Gator and 1974 Liberty bowls and an overall record of 25-9-2. He ended his career with the best interception-to-attempt ratio in Tennessee history, throwing just 12 interceptions in 407 collegiate attempts.

In addition to being the first black quarterback at Tennessee and in the Southeastern Conference, Holloway also was the first black baseball player in UT history.

The outstanding prospect had been selected out of high school by the Montreal Expos with their first overall pick after catching the eye of Expos president John McHale and chief scout Mel Didier. Baseball legend Buck O'Neil also had been among those attempted to sign Holloway, who opted instead for a two-sport collegiate career and went on to excel on the diamond. Holloway garnered All-SEC and All-America honors as a shortstop in 1975 and finished with a .353 career average.

This past off-season, Holloway — still the owner of UT's longest hitting streak at 27 games — was selected to Tennessee's All-Century Baseball Team, making him the only Volunteers student-athlete named to all-century squads in both baseball and football.

Holloway left Knoxville and played 13 seasons in the Canadian Football League, compiling impressive numbers for the Ottawa Rough Riders (1975-80), Toronto Argonauts (1981-86) and British Columbia Lions (1987). He threw for more than 25,000 yards and rushed for another 3,167 while scoring 155 touchdowns. He was league MVP in 1982.

After his professional playing days ended, Holloway returned to college and earned his UT degree.

In addition to his recent induction in Alabama, Holloway is a member of the Canadian Football Hall of Fame, Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame, UT Baseball Hall of Fame, and the city halls of fame for Toronto, Ottawa, Knoxville and Huntsville.

Holloway is married to the former Courtney Haralson of Meigs County, and is the father of Jasmine and Condredge III.

Ryan Bolinger
Assistant to the Head Coach

Ryan Bolinger is in his first season as Assistant to the Head Coach and second overall with the UT football program.

Bolinger, 24, oversees and monitors the daily tasks and scheduling of head coach Lane Kiffin, in addition to assisting with various duties associated with football operations.

Originally from Arlington, Texas, Bolinger has lived in Maryville the last 14 years and is a 2003 graduate of William Blount High School.

He played four years of football for the Governors and lettered three of those years as an offensive lineman. He then earned his undergraduate degree in sport management from the University of Tennessee in 2007 and completed his master's in sports psychology from UT this past May.

Bolinger is married to the former Heather Jones of Brownsville.

Kyle Strongin
Coordinator, Football Operations

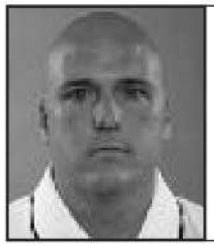
Kyle Strongin enters his first season as Coordinator of Football Operations with the Tennessee football program.

Strongin's duties include management the recruiting office and staff, production of recruiting evaluation tapes, supervision of official and unofficial visits, and organization of summer camps and coaching clinics. In addition, he also maintains internal and external relations with the compliance of NCAA, SEC and UT rules and regulations.

The Palm Beach, Fla., native comes to Knoxville after serving as scouting and player personnel assistant for the San Francisco 49ers. He has close ties to Vols assistant head coach Ed Orgeron, having served as first the then-Mississippi head coach in 2006 as a volunteer assistant and in 2007 as coordinator of football operations. Preceding his Ole Miss tour, Strongin volunteered as a special teams coach for the Jacksonville Jaguars and as quarterbacks coach and passing game coordinator for Palm Beach (Fla.) Central High School.

Strongin earned his bachelor's degree in marketing in 2005 from the University of Oklahoma, where he was a member of the Sooners' 2002 Big 12 and Rose Bowl championship football team. A graduate of Wellington (Fla.) High School, Strongin competed in basketball, track and field, and tennis in addition to football.

The 31-year-old is single and resides in Knoxville.



Aaron Ausmus
Director of Strength and Conditioning

Aaron Ausmus, a former Tennessee track and field standout and strength and conditioning assistant, returns to Rocky Top as Director of Strength and Conditioning. His 10-year journey through the coaching ranks included three years at Mississippi and the 2003 national championship at Southern California.

Prior to arriving Knoxville, Ausmus most recently served a brief tenure at North Texas as the head football strength coach.

Ausmus joined the staff of Ed Orgeron as head football strength and conditioning coach at Ole Miss in 2005, serving for three seasons. He came to Ole Miss from Idaho, where he had served as head strength and conditioning coach for the 2004 season. There he was responsible for implementing, directing, and supervising the strength, speed, and conditioning programs for 16 men's and women's athletics teams.

Prior to joining the Idaho staff, Ausmus served as the top assistant strength and conditioning coach at Southern California from 2001-03. Considered one of the up-and-coming young strength coaches, Ausmus was instrumental in preparing the 2003 Associated Press national championship team at USC. In addition to winning the 2003 national title, the Trojans were Pac-10 champions in 2002 and 2003.

Prior to joining the USC staff, Ausmus served as a part-time assistant strength and conditioning coach at Tennessee during the 2000-01 seasons and was a strength and conditioning graduate assistant with the Vols from 1998-2000.

Ausmus earned his Bachelor of Science in Education degree in Sport Management from Tennessee in 1998 and then earned his Master of Science in Education degree, also in Sport Management, from Tennessee in 1999.

As a student-athlete on the track team at UT, Ausmus was the 1997 NCAA Indoor shot put champion and a two-time All-America.

He is married to the former Andrea Pappas of Gwinnett County, Ga. They are the parents of Max Aden, 3, and a Bo David, 1.

Harry Galbreath
Associate Strength and Conditioning Coach

Harry Galbreath, an All-America offensive lineman for the Vols during his 1984-87 playing career, enters his third season as an associate strength and conditioning coach.

Galbreath, 44, returned to Tennessee after three separate stints as offensive line coach -- Austin Peay (1998-99), Tennessee State (2000-04) and Hampton (2005-06).

The Clarksville native played nine seasons in the NFL with the Dolphins, Packers and Jets after his UT career. In addition to his All-America and SEC Jacobs Trophy accolades, Galbreath was selected as a member of Tennessee's 100-Year All-Time Team in 1991.

"I was happy to be back home and Johnny has been very supportive," Galbreath said. "I have acclimated myself to the team and continue to do what I can to help out."

Steve Gortmaker
Associate Strength and Conditioning Coach

Steve Gortmaker joined the UT Athletics Department as men's associate strength and conditioning coach. Gortmaker comes to the Vols after four seasons at South Carolina, with prior stops in his 10-year career at Oklahoma, Western Kentucky and Kansas.

Gortmaker, 32, is a 1998 graduate of Oklahoma, where he earned his health and sport science degree.

The White Deer, Texas, native played defensive back for the Sooners from 1995-98 and earned Academic All-Big 12 honors. Gortmaker owns certifications with USA Weightlifting, the International Sports Sciences Association and with the National Association of Speed and Explosion.

Dan Hamilton
Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach

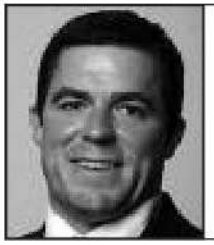
Dan Hamilton became a key member of Tennessee's strength and conditioning staff when he was named assistant strength and conditioning coach in summer 2006.

The Randolph, Ohio, native previously spent time as a volunteer and graduate assistant for the Vols. He continues alongside the rehabilitation and training staffs, working hand-in-hand to get athletes back on the field.

The 30-year-old has been at Tennessee since summer of 2002, conditioning the golf, spirit and dance squads in addition to his football assistance. He developed a year-round strength and conditioning program for the nationally ranked golf team.

Hamilton, who graduated in 2002 from Ohio State University in sport and leisure studies with an athletic training emphasis, earned his master's degree in human performance and sports studies at UT in 2004.

He is married to the former Sarah Hilker of Akron, Ohio.



Troy Wills
Assistant, Basketball

Troy Wills joined the strength and conditioning staff in 2003 and was later promoted to Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach.

A native of Pocahontas, Va., Wills is the primary strength coach for men's basketball while also assisting UT football student-athletes with their strength and conditioning programs.

A 2000 graduate of Emory & Henry College in Emory, Va., with a bachelor's degree in Education, Wills earned a Master's in Physical Education with a concentration in Exercise Science from East Tennessee State University in 2003.

Jason McVeigh
Head Athletic Trainer

Jason McVeigh enters his fourth season as the Head Athletic Trainer for Tennessee men's athletics.

McVeigh has been a member of the UT Sports Medicine staff since 1999, when he joined the Vols as the Director of Rehabilitation under former Head Athletic Trainer Mike Rollo. He gained his Athletic Trainer Certification in 2000 and added duties as assistant athletic trainer to his role. When Keith Clements was promoted to Head Athletic Trainer in 2002, McVeigh was promoted to an associate position. He then took over his current role leading the department after Clements' departure in 2006.

Under McVeigh's supervision, the UT Sports Medicine department has added several key features to assist in the mission of providing world-class health care to all UT student-athletes. This includes addition of a Team Physician's Clinic, on-site X-ray, baseline echocardiograms and concussion testing for all student-athletes, development of Team EXCEL, a revised substance abuse testing policy and procedure, and an expanded state-of-the-art physical therapy clinic.

McVeigh graduated Summa Cum Laude from UT in 1996 with a B.S. degree in Biology. He then went on to receive his master's degree in Physical Therapy from Duke University in 1999. He is a member of both the American Physical Therapy Association and the National Athletic Trainers Association. He currently serves as the chair of the Editorial Review Group in Sports Medicine for Doody Enterprises Inc., as well as being a member of the Client Advisory Board for Aegis Sciences Corp. McVeigh has spoken at several local and national sports medicine conferences on topics related to both physical therapy and athletic training.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., McVeigh graduated from Jonesborough's David Crockett High in 1992. He is married to the former Jennifer Bruorton of Marietta, Ga., and they are the parents of 2-year-old twins, Caitlin and Carson.

John Dean
Director of Rehabilitation

John Dean, MPT, ATC, is beginning his fourth year as the Director of Rehabilitation for the UT Sports Medicine Staff.

Prior to coming to Tennessee, John worked for the Athletic Association at Florida. At UF, he was responsible for treating all injuries to the football team and was an instructor in the Applied Physiology and Kinesiology Department teaching a course in Rehabilitation. He previously was an athletic trainer at Southern California, working with the football and baseball programs, including the Trojans' 2003 national champion football team.

A native of American Fork, Utah, Dean graduated Magna Cum Laude from San Diego State University in 2000 with a degree in kinesiology. He completed his Master's degree in physical therapy at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. John is an experienced clinician and educator who is active in the National Athletic Trainers' Association and the American Physical Therapy Association. He has presented at several regional and national conferences.

He and his wife, Kris, live in Knoxville with their daughter Addison.

Rob Duncanson
Associate Athletic Trainer, Football

Robb Duncanson has entered his fourth season as UT's Associate Athletic Trainer for football. Duncanson works closely with Jason McVeigh to coordinate day-to-day medical care and medical operations. Duncanson also oversees the graduate assistant athletic trainers for football and tennis. In addition to being a Certified Athletic Trainer, he is also a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist

The 32-year-old came to the Vols in 2006 after four years in the same position at the University of South Florida. Prior to his tenure at USF, Duncanson served as co-head athletic trainer with the Louisville Fire of the Arena2 Football League, and was a seasonal assistant athletic trainer for the New York Jets in 2001, and a summer intern for the New York Giants in 1997.

A 1999 Sports Science graduate of Elmira College, Duncanson earned his Master's in Sports Administration at the University of Louisville in 2001. He was named "2005 Athletic Trainer of the Year" and received the "2004 President's Backbone Award" by the Athletic Trainers' Association of Florida.

A Middletown, N.Y., native, Duncanson is married to the former Carrie Clark, an Athletic Trainer with the Lady Vols and UT letterwinner. The Duncansons have a daughter, Avery (born in 2006), and a son, Cade (born in 2009).

Allison Maurer
Sports Nutritionist

Allison Mauer's commitment to excellence in sports nutrition is a big part of the Tennessee winning edge.

Maurer, 29, is one of only 17 full-time sports nutritionists at the NCAA Division I level. She is responsible for all nutrition education with the Vols and Lady Vol athletes. As part of her duties, she conducts grocery-shopping tours for student-athletes, weight-gain and weight-loss programs and performance nutrition — what Maurer calls "fueling for performance." Maurer also teaches an undergraduate-level sports nutrition class that is encouraged for all Lady Vols team members.

She handles meal planning for football and assists with meal planning for other sports, works closely with Team ENHANCE and Team EXCEL and conducts body composition testing for men's athletics. Maurer also authors a department newsletter covering the entire realm of nutrition education.

The Holland, Mich., native began her work with the Vols and Lady Vols in October 2007 after three years at Colorado. Her responsibilities there were as sports nutritionist for all programs and assistant strength and conditioning coach for football, tennis, golf and cheerleading.

Maurer earned her undergraduate degree in nutrition and dietetics from Olivet Nazarene University in 2002. She completed her master's in nutrition from Georgia State University in 2003.

She and her husband, Dan, of Addison, Ill., are the parents of 2-year-old Manny.

Dr. Chris Klenck
Team Physician

Dr. Chris Klenck is a rising star in the medical profession as team physician on the UT Sports Medicine staff.

Klenck, 38, came to Knoxville in November 2006 following a primary care sports medicine fellowship at Indiana University Medical Center. He had served the Indianapolis hospital since June 2001 in the positions of Internal Medicine/Pediatrics intern, resident and chief resident.

During fellowship training, Klenck was an assistant team physician for the Indianapolis Colts preseason training camps and assisted at Purdue University, his alma mater. He worked the NFL Scouting Combines in Indianapolis, has NCAA championships experience and served as a team physician in the Indiana high school ranks.

An Evansville, Ind., native, Klenck earned his doctor of pharmacy degree from Purdue before completing his doctor of medicine degree at Indiana University School of Medicine. He is a member of the American Academy of Pediatrics, American College of Physicians, American Medical Society for Sports Medicine and American College of Sports Medicine.

Klenck is married to the former Laura Botto of Dayton, Ohio. They are the parents of three children: Jacob, 9; Ben, 8; and Ella, 5.

Roger Frazier
Equipment Manager

Equipment Manager Roger Frazier is responsible for all football equipment issue and maintenance, in addition to handling the purchasing and inventory control of all football game and practice gear.

He also serves as president of the SEC Equipment Managers Association and assists in new product development with Adidas.

Currently in his 27th year as a full-time staffer with the Volunteers football program, the UT graduate began his career in 1978 as student manager before being named equipment manager in spring 1983.

The equipment room was renamed the Roger Frazier and Max Parrott Football Equipment Room, given in their honor by Gordon, Melissa and Hannah Summerfield, in January 2003.

Frazier graduated from Bradley Central High School in Cleveland and played football. He and his wife, Donna, have two children, Brandon and Barrett.

Max Parrott
Assistant Equipment Manager

Max Parrott is into his 24th season as assistant equipment manager under the direction of Roger Frazier.

Parrott began his association with the Volunteers football program as a student assistant in 1980 before coming back in 1985 to take on the equipment room duty on a full-time basis. He was promoted to his current position in 1987.

The equipment room was renamed the Roger Frazier and Max Parrott Football Equipment Room, given in their honor by Gordon, Melissa and Hannah Summerfield, in January 2003.

Parrott graduated from Soddy-Daisy High School and received his UT bachelor's degree in Arts and Sciences in 1984. He is married to the former Paige Davis of Lenoir City, and they enjoy boating on Norris Lake along with camping and snow skiing.

Allen Sitzler
Assistant Equipment Manager

Allen Sitzler is in his third season as a full-time equipment manager after joining Roger Frazier's staff in September 2007. The 2009 season will be his 14th season with the Tennessee program after serving as both a student manager and part-time assistant prior to taking on a full-time role.

The Cleveland native's responsibility includes managing the daily operation of the equipment room, from practice to scheduling, supervision of the student managers as well as ordering and maintaining the team's Adidas gear and football equipment.

Sitzler, 33, graduated from Cleveland High School and then Cleveland State Community College, playing baseball and basketball at both stops, before arriving at UT. He earned his undergraduate degree in communications with a minor in sport management from Tennessee. He went on to also complete his master's in sports administration.

During those years, Sitzler served as a student manager from 1996-2000, including the last two years as head student manager before climbing aboard Frazier's staff in a part-time role in 2001.

Joe Harrington
Sports Technology Coordinator

Joe Harrington enters his 19th season at Tennessee as the Vols' sports technology coordinator. Although his emphasis is on football, Harrington trains the staff working with all UT men's and women's sports teams.

His primary responsibilities include compiling and editing game and practice tapes for coaching analysis, cataloging game tapes and producing "cut-ups." He also manages all equipment and design of the Vols' video department, including the team's state-of-the-art XOS Technologies editing system.

A Camillus, N.Y., native, Harrington graduated from UT in 1990 with a communications degree. The College Sports Video Association has named him SEC Video Coordinator of the Year three times (1997, 1998 and 2003).

Harrington and his wife, the former Tammy Mulling of Alva, Fla., have three children, Connor, Abigail and Hayden Jane.

Vols Play by the Rules

Compliance with NCAA rules is one of the highest priorities for the University of Tennessee and our athletics department. As a member of the NCAA, the University of Tennessee is responsible for the actions of its boosters and fans. Even the best intentions may violate NCAA rules. We need your help in observing all SEC and NCAA regulations. Boosters and fans must be careful of their interaction with prospective and current student-athletes. Therefore, we encourage our boosters and fans to "Ask Before You Act" by contacting the Compliance Office staff: Associate Athletics Director for Compliance Brad Bertani (865-974-3871), Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance Todd Dooley (865-974-9696), or Compliance Officer Kevin Avery (865-974-3308).

Representatives of Athletics Interest, "Boosters"

There are many ways an individual can be classified as a Representative of Tennessee's Athletics Interests. You are a "representative of The University of Tennessee's athletics interests," if you have: been involved in a booster club; made financial contributions to the athletics program or booster organizations; provided benefits to an enrolled student-athlete; assisted in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; or been involved in the promotion of UT athletics. Please note that once you have been identified as a representative of UT athletics interests, you retain that identity indefinitely.

Recruiting, Extra Benefit and Inducements

Only coaches and athletics department staff members can be involved in the recruiting process. All "athletics representatives" who are not employees of UT are prohibited from contacting a prospect by telephone, letter or in-person, on- or off-campus, for the purpose of encouraging participation in athletics at UT. It is not permissible for prospects, student-athletes or their relatives and friends to receive any extra benefits or special arrangements from a booster. Extra benefits include, but are not limited to: cash or loans in any amount; co-signing or arranging a loan; providing gifts of any kind (e.g., clothing, airline tickets or holiday cards); providing special discounts for goods and services; use of an automobile.

Signees Montori Huges, Nigel Mitchell-Thornton, Rae Sykes and Toney Williams enrolled at UT in January and are included with the returning Vols.

2009 Season Review

Cranked up and looking for good things to happen, their spirits buoyed by a top-20 preseason national ranking, the Vols instead crashed to their second losing campaign in four years in 2008. Tennessee notched a victory over Kentucky in the closing game to close a disappointing season with a 5-7 overall worksheet and a 3-5 slate in the Southeastern Conference.

The brightest light in a rather dimly-lit season was sophomore safety Eric Berry. The Fairburn, Ga., native became the 33rd all-time UT player and the first since 1990 to claim consensus All-America honors. He earned first-team acclaim from all five NCAA-recognized outlets: American Football Coaches Association, Walter Camp Football Foundation, Football Writers Association of America, Associated Press and Sporting News. At the conference level, Berry became the first Tennessee player since Peyton Manning to earn SEC Player of the Year honors.

Other awards lauded upon the stellar sophomore included the 2008 Jack Tatum Award, presented annually by the Touchdown Club of Columbus (Ohio) to the best defensive back in college football. He was also selected to receive the Vince Dooley Award for the Top Defensive Back in the Southeast presented by The Touchdown Club of Atlanta and the Tennessee Player of the Year award presented by the Tennessee Sports Writers Association. Lastly, he was a finalist for the Jim Thorpe Award.

Berry's combination of strength and skill helped him finish with a major college-best seven interceptions for 265 return yards, while adding 72 tackles to finish third on the Tennessee team and 18th among SEC leaders. For his career in just 25 games, Berry owns 12 interceptions for 487 return yards and three touchdowns.

In two seasons he has broken interception return yardage records that had been on the books for a combined 187 years. He now owns records for a UT season (previously stood for 37 years), UT career (39 years), SEC season (52 years) and SEC career (59 years). He enters the 2009 season just 14 yards shy of the major college career record of 501 interception return yards set by Florida State's Terrell Buckley from 1989-91.

GAME 1

Sept. 1, 2008

TENNESSEE	24
UCLA	27

Pasadena, Calif. - Arian Foster rushed for 96 yards on just 13 carries and Montario Hardesty added 66 yards and two touchdowns on 12 carries, but the Tennessee ground game couldn't overcome mistakes on special teams and in the passing game as the Vols dropped their season opener to UCLA in overtime, 27-24.

Highlighting several special teams miscues were three missed field goals—including a game-tying attempt in overtime—and a blocked punt returned for a touchdown for the only time in Phillip Fulmer's tenure as head coach. On offense, new starting quarterback Jonathan Crompton struggled to find a rhythm, completing 19 of 41 passes for 189 yards and an interception. Gerald Jones caught four passes for 40 yards.

The Tennessee defense was a bright spot in an otherwise shaky opening act. The Vols allowed just 29 rushing yards and 288 total yards while posting nine tackles for loss and picking off four offerings from UCLA signal caller Kevin Craft.

In the first extra frame, the Tennessee defense held UCLA to zero yards and forced the Bruins to convert a 42-yard field goal. The Vol offense struggled as well on its possession, failing to gain a first down and forcing Lincoln onto the field for a game-tying 34-yard try, which he missed wide left to give UCLA the win.

TENNESSEE	35
UAB	3

Knoxville - Tennessee racked up 548 yards of total offense including 266 on the ground as the Vols rolled past UAB 35-3 at home. Arian Foster carried 12 times for 100 yards and Lennon Creer carried eight times for 93 yards and two touchdowns. Montario Hardesty rushed seven times for 28 yards and also scored a touchdown.

The back-breaking play for the Blazers came on a 45-yard TD run from Creer late in the third quarter. The ensuing PAT gave the Vols a 28-3 lead with little more than a quarter to play. Creer added another score from three yards out early in the fourth frame to create the final margin.

The dagger came from Creer, but most of the dirty work was Foster's. He produced runs of 16, 25 and 31 yards en route to his 11th career 100-yard game.

Gerald Jones caught two TD passes in the first quarter, the first a 20-yard strike on Tennessee's second possession of the game and the second from 14 yards out on the Vols' next possession.

The Tennessee defense held the Blazers to 275 yards of offense and created three turnovers, each an interception by DeAngelo Willingham, Eric Berry and Ellix Wilson. Berry and Wilson also tied for the team lead with seven tackles apeice. Adam Myers-White contributed five stops, including two for losses.

GAME 3

Sept. 20, 2008

TENNESSEE	6
FLORIDA	30

Knoxville - Mistakes can cause a game to get out of hand quickly, and that's exactly what happened to the Vols in a 30-6 loss to Florida. Tennessee's first three possessions of the game ended in two turnovers—one inside the Florida 5-yard line—and a Florida punt return for a touchdown, placing the Vols squarely in a 17-0 hole. The Vols had the ball again at the Florida one-yard line with time running out in the first half and again turned it over, leaving the Vols a 20-0 halftime deficit from which they wouldn't recover.

Jonathan Crompton completed 18 of 28 passes for 122 yards. He also threw one interception and posted the Vols only touchdown on a one-yard run early in the fourth quarter.

Tennessee out gained the Gators in total offense 258 to 243, but three turnovers, nine penalties and numerous special teams errors made that usually-telling statistic all but meaningless.

The 243 yards gained by the Gators was their fewest vs. the Vols the since the 1990 game, when they gained just 194 yards. The Tennessee defense played well at times, but was put in too many bad situations due to special teams mistakes and turnovers. Rico McCoy led the unit with 10 tackles, while Eric Berry posted eight tackles and a sack.

GAME 4

Sept. 27, 2008

TENNESSEE	12
AUBURN	14

Auburn, Ala. - The Tennessee defense certainly played to its potential, but the offense struggled mightily as Auburn pulled out a win over the Vols in a defensive struggle on The Plains. John Chavis' defenders held the Auburn offense to 226 total yards and only one offensive touchdown, forcing eight three-and-outs including four in a back-and-forth final quarter. The difference in the game was Tennessee's inability to move the ball on offense. The Vols gained 191 total yards and managed only nine first downs.

A fumbled exchange between Jonathan Crompton and Arian Foster in the Vols' own end zone during the second quarter gave Auburn the seven points it would need to hang on for a win.

Crompton finished the game 8-of-23 for 67 yards, while Montario Hardesty led the rushing effort with 35 yards and a touchdown on 10 carries. Hardesty rushed around left end for two yards and a score on the opening play of the fourth quarter to pull the Vols within two points, but Crompton's pass on the two point try was caught short of the end zone by Gerald Jones.

Ellix Wilson led the Vols with 10 tackles, including one for a loss. Dan Williams posted eight stops with two of those being for a loss. Tennessee's other score came as the result of 38-yard interception return from Dennis Rogan.

GAME 5

TENNESSEE	13
NO. ILLINOIS	9

Knoxville - The Tennessee defense dominated for the second-straight week in support of new starting quarterback Nick Stephens as the Volunteers held off Northern Illinois for a 13-9 win at Neyland Stadium.

The Vol defenders surrendered just 190 yards of offense and picked off one Dan Nicholson pass, while the offense again struggled to find a rhythm, producing just nine first downs and 225 yards of offense. The deciding play of the game ended up being a 52-yard touchdown pass from Stephens to Denarius Moore in the third quarter. That play gave the Vols a 13-3 lead as the defense went on to surrender just two field goals in the final 25 minutes of play.

Stephens finished the game 10-of-17 for 156 yards and a touchdown. Arian Foster was the Vols' leader on the ground, grinding out 75 yards on 18 carries, while Moore's 52-yard snag propelled him to the top of the stat sheet in the receiving column. He finished with three catches for 65 yards and a score. Daniel Lincoln saw action for the second-consecutive week, converting field goals of 36 and 34 yards.

The defense produced a season-high four sacks and seven tackles for loss in the game. Nevin McKenzie, making his first career start, led the team with nine tackles and 2.5 tackles for loss. DeAngelo Willingham made three tackles and broke up three passes.

TENNESSEE	14
GEORGIA	26

Athens, Ga. - Matthew Stafford threw for 310 yards and a touchdown and Knowshon Moreno carried 27 times for 101 yards to pace Georgia in a 26-14 win over Tennessee at Sanford Stadium. The Georgia offense amassed 458 yards of offense and possessed the ball for more than 42 minutes, thanks in large part to a number of defensive penalties and miscues from the Vols.

When the Tennessee offense did get on the field, not much went right. Nick Stephens completed 13 of 30 passes for 208 yards and two touchdowns, but the UT rushing game was non-existent. Montario Hardesty rushed six times for 20 yards and the team finished with just one rushing yard total at game's end. Gerald Jones led the receiving corps with four catches for 68 yards and a touchdown.

The one thing that did seem to get the Tennessee offense going was turnovers. Robert Ayers picked off Stafford on a screen play in the second quarter, and the offense responded with a six-play, 77-yard drive capped by a two-yard pass from Stephens to Jones. Early in the third quarter, Eric Berry picked Stafford in the end zone and returned it 54 yards into Georgia territory. Tennessee took seven plays to drive the remaining 46 yards and scored on a 12-yard pass from Stephens to Lucas Taylor.

Ellix Wilson led the team with 16 tackles, and Ayers posted a career-high nine stops and 3.5 tackles for loss.

TENNESSEE 34
MISS. ST. 3

Knoxville - With the recent struggles of the Tennessee offense, the Vols got back to what they know best--the running game and pressure defense--in a 34-3 win over Mississippi State at Neyland Stadium. Tennessee ground out 139 yards on the ground and scored two rushing touchdowns while the defense tallied five sacks and forced three interceptions, two of which were returned for touchdowns.

The game-breaking play was a 72-yard interception return for a touchdown by Eric Berry early in the fourth quarter. The play put the Vols ahead 20-3 and gave Berry the Southeastern Conference record for career interception return yards with 397. It was his fifth pick of the season.

On the Bulldogs' next possession, Demetrice Morley got in on the act with a 32-yard pick return for a score, and Tennessee added a one-yard touchdown from Lennon Creer with less than three minutes to play.

Creer ended the game as the Vols leading rusher with 68 yards and a score on 17 carries. Eight different Vols caught passes led by Lucas Taylor and Austin Rogers with two grabs for 23 yards apiece. Nick Stephens managed the game well under center, connecting on 10-of-20 passes for 136 yards.

Berry led the Vols defensively with 10 tackles, including a sack. Nevin McKenzie posted eight tackles and 1.5 sacks. The five sacks posted by the defense were a season-high.

TENNESSEE 9
ALABAMA 29

Knoxville - Tennessee gave itself opportunities early, but couldn't fully capitalize down the stretch in the Vols' 29-9 loss to No. 2 Alabama at Neyland Stadium. The UT defense and special teams units held strong for much of the first half, but the offense couldn't do its part.

Twice before halftime, Tennessee was given solid field position and came away with a total of three points. In the first quarter, Dennis Rogan recovered a fumbled punt inside the Alabama five-yard line. The UT offense lost nine yards on the drive and was forced to call on Daniel Lincoln for a 31-yard field goal. Early in the second quarter, Montario Hardesty blocked an Alabama punt to give Tennessee possession at the Crimson Tide 32-yard line. The offense lost two yards in three plays before Daniel Lincoln missed a 51-yard kick.

After the intermission, Alabama took advantage of a tired Tennessee defense and scored 16 points on their first three drives, effectively putting the game out of the Vols' reach.

Nick Stephens finished the game 16-of-28 for 137 yards and a touchdown, which came late in the game on a screen pass to Josh Briscoe. Briscoe was the Vols' top receiver with four catches for 46 yards. Tennessee managed only 36 yards rushing in the game led by from Arian Foster with 21.

The Tennessee defense was led by Rico McCoy, who posted a season-high 13 tackles.

TENNESSEE 6
SO. CAROLINA 27

Columbia, S.C. - In what became the story of a season, the Tennessee defense played well, but two second-quarter turnovers by the offense proved to be the difference in the Vols' 27-6 loss to South Carolina in Columbia.

With the Vols trailing 7-0 and driving into South Carolina territory, Nick Stephens saw the first pick of his career returned 68 yards for a touchdown and a 14-0 Gamecock lead. Two possessions later, Jonathan Crompton completed a pass to Lennon Creer, who then fumbled and watched South Carolina's Captain Munnerlyn return the loose ball to the Tennessee four-yard line. The Gamecocks would score on the next play.

Nick Stephens finished the game 10-of-24 for 134 yards. He was replaced for a period in the second quarter by Jonathan Crompton, who completed 5-of-8 passes for 39 yards. Arian Foster rushed for 56 yards and a touchdown on 14 carries. Austin Rogers led the Vols' receivers with three catches for 72 yards.

Tennessee's only score of the game came in third on a one-yard run from Foster.

Rico McCoy led the defense with nine tackles including one for a loss. Eric Berry grabbed his sixth interception of the season and added a 45-yard return to it to move his SEC-record career interception return yardage total to 442.

TENNESSEE 7
WYOMING 13

Knoxville - Tennessee's defense again played admirably, but offensive miscues led to defeat for the Vols, this time at the hands of the Wyoming Cowboys at Neyland Stadium.

Tennessee surrendered 13 points, an interception return for a touchdown and another interception cashed in with a one-play, four-yard drive. It was all the Cowboys would need as the Volunteer offense couldn't get on the scoreboard when it needed to the most, in the final 20 minutes of the game.

Tennessee managed 101 yards on the ground and 118 through the air. Starter Nick Stephens and backup Jonathan Crompton combined to go 14-of-36. Crompton completed the Vols' lone touchdown pass to Gerald Jones, who finished the game with five grabs for 37 yards, in the third quarter. In the absence of running backs Arian Foster and Montario Hardesty, sophomore Lennon Creer carried 16 times for 82 yards.

The Vols had four second-half possessions after the Jones touchdown and all four times drove to midfield or closer, but could not score.

Rico McCoy led the UT defensive effort with 10 tackles, while Demonte Bolden posted seven tackles with three going for a loss. Robert Ayers also posted two TFLs for five yards.

TENNESSEE 20
VANDERBILT 10

Nashville - Tennessee rode a productive second quarter and a stingy defense to its 13th-straight win in Nashville over in-state rival Vanderbilt. The Vols got all of their points in the second quarter and then turned the game over to the defense in the second half. The UT defenders held Vanderbilt to just 25 yards rushing while forcing three turnovers.

Tennessee rushed for 222 total yards and threw just nine passes for 21 yards. Lennon Creer led the effort on the ground with 80 yards on 13 carries. Arian Foster added 53 yards on 11 carries, and Montario Hardesty rushed seven times for 43 yards and a touchdown. B.J. Coleman came off the bench to take the majority of the snaps in the game and completed four passes for 21 passing yards.

After a scoreless first quarter, Hardesty scored from eight yards out to cap a nine-play, 65-yard drive and give the Vols a 7-0 lead. A poor punt from Brett Upson gave the Vols prime field position on their next possession, which was converted into a field goal and a 10-0 lead. Vanderbilt's ensuing possession ended in a 45-yard interception return for a touchdown from Eric Berry. The Vols would add another field goal just before the intermission to make the score 20-0.

Rico McCoy led the Tennessee defensive effort for the fourth-straight game with 11 tackles.

KENTUCKY 10

Knoxville - Tennessee used the same formula to earn a victory for the second straight game, rushing for 210 yards and giving up only 193 yards of total offense in a 28-10 win over Kentucky at Neyland Stadium.

It was the 24th-consecutive win for the Vols over the Wildcats and Phillip Fulmer's 152nd and final victory as Tennessee's head coach.

Quarterback Jonathan Crompton threw just eight passes and completed six of them for a total of 101 yards and a touchdown. He also carried eight times for 17 yards and a score. Gerald Jones was the Vols' top rusher and receiver, carrying five times for 67 yards and a touchdown while catching three passes for 15 yards.

Denarius Moore caught Crompton's TD pass, a 63-yard strike that gave the Vols a 14-3 lead early in the second half. The Vols added two touchdowns in the final quarter, one a five-yard rush from Lennon Creer and the other a two-yard scamper from Jones.

Arian Foster posted 59 yards on 21 carries to finish his UT career as No. 2 on the all-time rushing list with 2,964 yards.

Senior linebacker Ellix Wilson led the Vols in tackles for the fifth time with nine stops. Fellow senior Nevin McKenzi posted seven tackles, including two that went for a loss.

All-America Notes

- Tennessee has had a total of 72 individual All-America selections, who have been recognized a total of 87 times.
- Tennessee has had one three-time All-America selection, guard Bob Suffridge, chosen in 1938, 1939 and 1940. Thirteen (13) other Vols have earned All-America honors twice during their careers.
- Thirty-three (33) Vols have earned consensus NCAA All-America honors.
- The most honorees in one year were four, in 1939 and 1966.
- The most consecutive years with All-America selections were 11 from 1963-73, a total of 25 selections in all.
- Tennessee has had one father-son combination All-America selection in Steve DeLong (1963-64) and Keith DeLong (1988). Tennessee has had one brother combination, Johnny Majors (1956) and Bobby Majors (1971).
- Two of Tennessee's All-Americas later became head coaches at their alma mater: Bowden Wyatt (1938) in 1955 and Johnny Majors (1956) in 1977.
- Three of Tennessee's All-America selections made All-America in other sports. All-America punter Ron Widby (1966) was a basketball All-America in 1967. Former Olympian and wide receiver Willie Gault (1982) was a track and field All-America in 1981-83. Richmond Flowers (1967) earned track and field All-America honors in 1968-69.
- All-America selections Bill Johnson (1957), Bob Johnson (1967) and Peyton Manning (1997) also earned Academic All-America honors the same season.

Peyton Manning Scholarship

The University of Tennessee honors former Vol quarterback Peyton Manning each year by presenting a scholarship to a first-year student who will participate in UT's Honors program. The scholarship is funded from gifts to the University garnered from Manning's academic awards, the UT Athletic Department's corporate matching grants program and other private gifts. Manning's four-year career at UT (1994-97) produced a number of awards that generated $165,000 in scholarship funds. Among the awards were the Burger King-Vincent dePaul Draddy National Scholar Athlete of the Year, the Davey O'Brien Foundation Award and the American Honda Scholar-Athlete of the Year. The Manning Scholarship covers the costs of tuition, room and board for a male or female student. The award is granted to a first-year student on the basis of academic achievement, leadership and community service.

"Vol Scholar" Insignia Recognizes Academic Diligence

Student-athletes earn the right to wear the VOLScholar patch by achieving a 3.0 grade-point average in the previous fall and/or spring semester. The VOLScholar program was an initiative of UT's Thornton Athletics Student Life Center. It is a comprehensive academic and citizenship-building program that has gained enthusiastic support from UT athletic teams.

Editor's Note: Tennessee is proud to lay partial claim to another Hall of Fame inductee. Joe Steffy, who gained fame on some of the legendary Army teams of the 1940s, lettered as a freshman at Tennessee in 1944 before his transfer to West Point. Steffy, who came to UT from Chattanooga, resides in Newburgh, N.Y.

General Robert Reese Neyland

Feb. 17, 1892-March 28, 1962

The history and tradition of Tennessee football began under the tutelage of Gen. Robert Reese Neyland, a member of the College Football Hall of Fame. Neyland came to Tennessee as an ROTC instructor and backfield coach in 1925 and was named head football coach in 1926. From that date, Tennessee was in the college football business to stay.

Neyland's 1939 Vol team was the last to shut out each of its regular season opponents. Over the course of his career, 112 of his 216 opponents failed to score against his Tennessee teams. Tennessee still holds an NCAA record for holding opponents scoreless 71 consecutive quarters.

Neyland's teams won Southern Conference championships in 1927 and 1932, piling up undefeated streaks of 33 and 28 games along the way, and SEC championships in 1938, 1939, 1940, 1946 and 1951. In addition, Neyland-coached teams won four national championships. The Vols were consensus national champions in 1951, won the Dunkel, Litkenhous, Boand, Houlgate and Poling national championships in 1938, the Dunkel and Williamson crowns in 1940 and the DeVold and Dunkel crowns in 1950.

It was Gene McEver who kicked off the Neyland era with his 98-yard return of the opening kickoff in the 1928 Alabama game, a game the underdog Vols won 15-13. Each of Neyland's succeeding eras would be highlighted by similar big plays: Johnny Butler's 56-yard run against Alabama in 1939 and Hank Lauricella's 75-yard run against Texas in the 1951 Cotton Bowl. Neyland's 21-year record at Tennessee was 173 wins, 31 losses and 12 ties.

Neyland, who came to Tennessee as an Army captain and left as a brigadier general, brought one of the most efficient single-wing offenses in the country to go with an unyielding defense. He was assigned to the head coaching position by Dean Nathan Dougherty with a single injunction: "Do something about the series with Vanderbilt."

After Neyland's death in 1962, the University established the Robert R. Neyland Scholarship, academic scholarships awarded to non-athletes, many of whom are National Merit Scholars. The endowment for these scholarships now exceeds $3 million and 192 students have been the beneficiary of the awards.

The thoroughfare behind the stadium's south end, once called the river road, is now named Neyland Drive. More recently, the Vol football complex on campus was named for Neyland and Knoxville businessman B. Ray Thompson.

1894 and 1895
No Official Team

In October 1894, the Athletic Association resolved to drop varsity football and look forward to baseball in the spring. After the humiliating 1893 season (two wins and four imposing defeats), only two athletes willing to admit they had played on the 1893 team returned to campus in 1894. To complicate matters further, the practice field, located just west of the main entrance to the Hill, was being graded and improved.

Soon after this decision, W.B. Stokely, a UT senior who transferred from Wake Forest, persuaded a group of students to form a team. Stokely, who was elected captain, gave encouragement and direction to the other players. Even though the institution chose not to be represented officially on the gridiron, Stokely and his unofficial team kept football interest alive during this period when almost certainly it otherwise would have been allowed to lapse completely.

These unofficial games, referred to as "The Lost Years" are not included in NCAA statistics or in official University of Tennessee won-lost records.

1917 AND 1918
WORLD WAR I
NO OFFICIAL TEAMS

The University of Tennessee Athletic Council, chaired by Professor Nathan W. Dougherty, officially suspended varsity football during the World War I years of 1917 and 1918 because the majority of the players were called into military service. In addition, Coach John R. Bender was enlisted as an instructor at Camp John Sevier in Greenville, S.C.

During this period without varsity football, two unofficial teams were formed from Army recruits and students. One team represented a training unit called the Fighting Mechanics and another the Student Army Training Corps (SATC).

R.R. NEYLAND (1946-52)

General Neyland's retirement from military service enabled him to devote full time to coaching and building one of the most powerful programs in the nation. He produced the national championship team in 1951 and took the Vols to three straight major bowl appearances. Poor health in 1952 forced his retirement to athletic director, a position he held until his death in 1962. He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1956. His record for this period was 54-17-4. Coaching record: 173-31-12.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The first three games of 1992 were credited to the coaching record of Phillip Fulmer, the other eight regular-season games to the record of Johnny Majors. Fulmer was officially named head coach Nov. 29, and the 1993 Hall of Fame Bowl game was added to his record.

PHILLIP FULMER (1992-Present)

After serving as an assistant coach at UT for 14 seasons, the former Vol offensive line standout was named the 20th head coach at the close of the 1992 season.
Coaching record: 152-52.

About the 'T' – The famed letter "T" debuted on Tennessee's helmets in 1964 as Doug Dickey assumed the coaching reins. Johnny Majors had the 'T' slightly redesigned when he was named head coach in 1977. Dickey also brought another Tennessee tradition to life when he started the Vols running through a giant "T" formed by the band.

Pride of the Southland Band – The UT "Pride of the Southland Band" was organized immediately after the Civil War. Since then, enrollment in the band program has grown to more than 400 students. Director of Bands, Dr. Gary Sousa, heads up a program that has maintained a long-standing reputation as one of the nation's finest musical organizations. The band first marched in a 6-0 victory over Sewanee in 1902. In 1969 "The Pride" formed and opened the "T" against Army in another Vol victory.

School Colors – The colors Orange and White were selected by Charles Moore, a member of the first football team in 1891, and later were approved by a vote of the student body. The colors were those of the common American daisy which grew in profusion on The Hill. Tennessee players did not appear in the now-famous Orange jerseys until the season opening game in 1922.

Checkerboard End Zones – The unique design accompanied coach Doug Dickey's arrival in 1964 when the Vols played Boston College. The colorful and popular end zones were a part of Tennessee football until 1968 when the natural sod was dug out and artificial turf was put in its place. The tradition was reinstated with the new artificial turf in 1989 and has continued with the transformation to natural grass in 1994. The checkerboard end zones also now appear on the basketball court at Thompson-Boling Arena and for volleyball matches at Stokely Center.

Vol Navy – Former Vol broadcaster George Mooney found a quicker way to get to Neyland Stadium in 1962 other than fighting the Knoxville traffic. Mooney navigated his little runabout down the Tennessee River to the stadium and spawned what would later become the "Vol Navy." Tennessee and Washington are the only institutions with football stadiums adjacent to bodies of water.

Rocky Top – Felice and Boudleaux Bryant's "Rocky Top," — written in 10 minutes at the Gatlinburg Inn in 1967 — has captured the fancy of Vol fans everywhere and is a much-requested and much-played song at UT sporting events. First performed as part of a halftime country music show at the 1972 Tennessee-Alabama game, the song attracted so much attention and is so beloved that long-time UT band director W.J. Julian said that not playing it would cause a mutiny among Vol fans.

Smokey - The Tennessee students voted to select a live coonhound mascot to represent the school in 1953. The late Rev. Bill Brooks entered his prize-winning Bluetick Coonhound, "Brooks' Blue Smokey," in the selection contest. At halftime of the Mississippi State game that season, the dogs were introduced over the loudspeaker and the student body cheered for their favorite, with "Blue Smokey" responding to the fans with a bark of his own to secure the victory. The Smokey lineage — nine dogs in all — has stayed under the care of either Rev. Brooks' or his wife's family ever since. One of the most beloved figures in the state, Smokey is famous for leading the Vols out of the giant "T" prior to each home game. Smokey IX has been serving since the 2004 season.

Neyland Stadium/Shields-Watkins Field: The present day Neyland Stadium, Shields-Watkins Field had its beginning in 1919. Col. W.S. Shields, president of Knoxville's City National Bank and a UT trustee, provided the initial capital to prepare and equip an athletic field. Thus, when the field was completed in March 1921 it was called Shields-Watkins field, in honor of the donor and his wife, Alice Watkins-Shields.The stadium, apart from the field it grew to enclose, came to bear its own distinguished name: Neyland Stadium. It was named for the man most responsible for the growth and development of Tennessee's proud football tradition. General Robert R. Neyland served as head coach from 1926 to 1952, with two interruptions for military service. After retiring from the coaching ranks, Neyland was athletic director until his death in 1962. He was the guiding force behind additions to the stadium's capacity, and is the one most responsible for the winning tradition that Volunteers fans have come to expect over the years.

Tennessee Bowl History Paved With Opportunities, Big Plays, National Championship Scenarios

When bowl matchmakers begin the mental calculations leading toward their annual holiday events, Tennessee is one of a select group of universities that always receives thoughtful consideration.

Traditionally, the Vols consistently provide an exciting bowl-game spectacle with high-powered offense and grudging defense. But that's just one of many reasons Tennessee is a bowl promoter's dream.

UT's other irresistible lure is its legions of fans, a collection of devoted supporters who bathe a neutral bowl site in a sea of orange worthy of a game at Neyland Stadium. The Vol faithful are good travelers who arrive at the game site early and make themselves seen and heard until they leave town.

Tennessee has appeared in 47 bowl games, of which a couple stand out as particularly memorable because of the bearing they had on producing two of the school's national championships.

In the early years of wire service polls, the national champion was selected at the end of the regular season. Bowl results were not part of the evaluation process. But Tennessee's Cotton Bowl victory over Texas after the 1950 season was invaluable in paving the way for the crown UT claimed in 1951.

The 20-14 upset of the Longhorns in Dallas on New Year's Day made the Vols the team to beat going into the next season. When the curtain fell on the 1951 campaign, Tennessee had ridden the momentum of its Cotton Bowl triumph to the national title as awarded by both wire service polls.

Forty-seven years later, a bowl game was crucial to another UT national championship claim. In the first officially sanctioned Bowl Championship Series title game, the Vols met Florida State in a matchup of the two top-ranked teams at the close of the season.

Led by the passing of quarterback Tee Martin, the Vols capped an undefeated season by turning back the Seminoles, 23-16, before a capacity crowd at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz. National championship pandemonium reigned throughout the night at any place Vol fans were gathered.

The significance of bowl games is in the eye of the individual, however, so you can pick among more than two dozen UT victories for your favorites. Certainly some of the other leaders would include: 1939 Orange Bowl (Vols 17, Oklahoma 0), 1965 Bluebonnet Bowl (Vols 27, Tulsa 6), 1971 Liberty Bowl (Vols 14, Arkansas 13), 1986 Sugar Bowl (Vols 35, Miami 7), 1990 Cotton Bowl (Vols 31, Arkansas 27), 1996 Citrus Bowl (Vols 20, Ohio State 14), 2002 Citrus Bowl (Vols 45, Michigan 17) and 2005 Cotton Bowl (Vols 38, Texas A&M 7).

UT IN THE POLLS

Since the inception of wire service polls, Tennessee has frequently placed among the nation's leaders in the national rankings. The Associated Press poll, which began in 1936, the United Press International poll, running from 1950 until 1991, and the CNN-USA Today poll lasting from 1982 until 1997, when it became the ESPN/USA Today poll, all reflect the lofty standings of the Vols in the eyes of coaches, sports writers and broadcasters. Tennessee won the 1951 and 1998 national championships in all polls and finished No. 2 in 1938, 1939, 1956, 1967 and 1995. The Vols have been awarded other national championships as determined by different points and ratings systems in effect at the time. UT earned national titles in 1938 and 1940 according to both the Dunkel and Litkenhous Systems. The Vols were named national champs in 1950 by Dunkel and in 1967 by Litkenhous. The 1951 title was also honored by both the Litkenhous and Williamson Systems.

Tennessee as No. 1

Tennessee ended the 1951 and 1998 seasons ranked No. 1 in the major wire service polls. The 1998 Vols were crowned national champion by the Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today-Coaches poll, while the 1951 Vols were honored by both the AP and UPI polls. In addition, the Vols have held down the nation's top spot on 15 different occasions in the history of the weekly Associated Press poll and have a 15-0 mark in those games. UT's next game results after an AP No. 1 ranking are listed below.

Tennessee vs. No. 1

In its 100 plus-year history, Tennessee has been involved in eight contests in which the Vols' opponent was ranked No. 1 in the country.

UT has a 2-6 all-time record when playing the nation's top-ranked team.

The most recent game between Tennessee and the No. 1 rated team was against Miami (Fla.) Nov. 9, 2002, in Knoxville.

The Vols' two victories against a No. 1 team have come against Southeastern Conference foes.

Tennessee, ranked No. 13, edged Louisiana State 14-13 Nov. 7, 1959, in Knoxville, to knock the Tigers out of the top spot.

On Sept. 28, 1985, the Vols, 0-0-1 and unranked at the time, soundly defeated top-rated Auburn 38-20 in Knoxville. The 1985 Vols went on to win the SEC Championship and finish No. 4 nationally in all polls.

LAST TIME IN THE POLLS

Throughout its history, the University of Tennessee football program has been a regular member of the Associated Press and, more recently, the ESPN/USA Today Coaches polls.

Below is a listing of the last time the Vols were ranked in a particular position in each poll.

Tennessee's last No. 1 ranking came at the end of the 1998 football season after Tennessee's 23-16 win over Florida State in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl Jan. 4, 1999.

The win garnered Tennessee the undisputed national championship thanks in part to the advent of the Bowl Championship Series, which matched the top two teams in the land in a fight for the national title.

Retired Numbers

The 2005 ceremonies to retire the jerseys of Doug Atkins (91), Peyton Manning (16) and Reggie White (92) brought the list of retired jersey numbers at Tennessee to seven. This includes the four former Vol players who died in World War II and had their jerseys retired in 1946.

In 2005, Tennessee instituted criteria to retire additional numbers. Those criteria include, but are not limited to: candidates must be recognized as good citizens and have a minimum of five years between the candidate's UT football career and consideration of this honor. A candidate must have achieved three of the following five collegiate honors: induction into the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame, Southeastern Conference (SEC) Player of the Year, Consensus All-America, Heisman Trophy winner, and have won one of the following general athletic/academic or non-position specific awards: Sullivan Award, SEC Athlete of the Year (all sports) or Draddy Award.

Doug Atkins (91) is considered by many to be the greatest defensive end in football history. After originally signing with UT on a basketball scholarship, Atkins went on to gridiron All-America status in 1952, was the only player to be unanimously named to the All-SEC Quarter Century Team (1950-74) and was selected SEC Player of the Quarter Century. Atkins retired with the most NFL games played (205) by a defensive lineman. The Vols went 29-3-1 with Adkins on the field and won the 1951 national championship.

Peyton Manning (16) is the most decorated athlete in UT history. He left Tennessee as the SEC's all-time leading passer with 11,201 yards, setting 42 passing records during his Vols career that included two NCAA, seven SEC and 33 UT marks. Off the field, Manning won the Draddy Award as National Scholar-Athlete of the Year in 1997 and graduated in three years with a degree in speech communications. He graduated with the highest grade-point average (3.61) in his field. During his pro career, Manning has earned Pro Bowl honors six times in his eight seasons played and was named NFL MVP for the 2004 and 2005 seasons. He threw an NFL-record 49 touchdown passes in 2004 and already has 244 for his career. Manning's career total of 33,189 passing yards stands 20th on the NFL all-time list.

Reggie White (92), who died Dec. 26, 2004, at the age of 43, collected a school-record 32 sacks in his four years with the Vols to establish himself as the most prolific pass rusher in Tennessee history. Fifteen of those sacks came in his senior year of 1983, a campaign current Vols head coach Phillip Fulmer called the "most individually dominant season I've ever seen." Known as the "Minister of Defense," White went on to a 17-year pro football career, retiring as the NFL's all-time sack leader with 198. He was elected to the College Football Hall of Fame in 2002. He graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1990.

Ceremonies were held during the 2006 UT-Air Force game to officially memorialize the four players killed in World War II. Those individuals, listed below, had their jerseys retired in 1946.

Clyde (Ig) Fuson (62) (March 11, 1923 — Dec. 4, 1944), a native of Middlesboro, Ky., and fullback on the 1942 team, shared playing time with Nowling. Ig had a younger brother, Herschel (Ug) Fuson, who was a freshman on the 1942 team and transferred to West Point, from where he graduated.

Rudy Klarer (49) (March 9, 1923 — Jan. 6, 1945) was a reserve guard in 1941 and starter in 1942, from Louisville, Ky.

Bill Nowling (32) (Aug. 8, 1920 — Aug. 9, 1944), a fullback 1940-42, from St. Petersburg, Fla., was a three-year starter under Gen. Robert R. Neyland and John Barnhill.

Willis Tucker (61) (May 10, 1918 — Nov. 28, 1944), a graduate of Knoxville High School, earned a Vol football letter in 1940 and was a sprint star on the track and field team.

Dr. Jan Simek

Interim University President

Dr. Jan Simek became interim president of the University of Tennessee on July 1, 2009. Dr. Simek had served as acting president since March 1, 2009. He is to be interim president for a period of up to two years.

In his current role, Dr. Simek serves as the chief executive officer of a statewide university system that includes the flagship campus in Knoxville, campuses in Chattanooga and Martin, the Health Science Center in Memphis, the Space Institute in Tullahoma, and statewide institutes of agriculture and public service.

As president, Dr. Simek serves as chairman of the UT-Battelle Board of Governors and as a member of the University of Tennessee Board of Trustees.

Most of Dr. Simek's academic career has been spent at UT Knoxville, where he has served in various academic and administrative posts with the campus over a 25-year period.

Dr. Simek previously served as interim chancellor of UT Knoxville for one year and before that was chief of staff to former Chancellor Loren Crabtree from 2005 to 2008.

Dr. Simek is an archaeologist who came to UT in 1984 as an assistant professor of anthropology. He is now a Distinguished Professor of Anthropology and has served as head of the Anthropology Department, the interim director of the School of Art and interim dean of the College of Architecture and Design.

Dr. Simek earned a bachelor's degree from the University of California at Santa Cruz and a master's and doctorate from the State University of New York in Binghamton. He has carried out archaeological research in France, Italy, Croatia, California and Tennessee and received research funding from the National Science Foundation, the National Geographic Society and the French Ministry of Culture. He has held visiting faculty appointments at the University of Washington, the University of Bordeaux and the Autonomous University of Barcelona, Spain.

Dr. Simek and his wife, Mary Ann, live in Seymour, Tenn.

Mike Hamilton
Director of Athletics

Mike Hamilton has a vision for leading the University of Tennessee to become the national standard of achievement in intercollegiate athletics.

Since becoming Director of Athletics in 2003, Tennessee has placed in the top 15 of the Director's Cup two times, brought home four national titles, 14 SEC or SEC divisional championships, and produced 156 All-Americas.

On the academic front, Tennessee has produced 10 first-team Academic All-Americas, two SEC Scholar Athletes of the Year, 975 Academic All-SEC honors and had 372 student-athletes earn degrees. In addition, 26 former student-athletes who left to pursue professional athletic careers have returned to finish their degrees through the Renewing Academic Commitment (RAC) program administered by the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center. In the 2008-09 school year, 42.2 percent of student-athletes earned a 3.0 GPA in the fall with 50 percent earning that same mark in the spring. This fall, 11 UT football players are competing as graduate students, while five are working toward a second degree.

Prior to being named athletics director, Hamilton spent 11 years in the UT athletics development office. During his stint there, the department saw donations rise from $5 million in 1992 to $19.5 million in 2003. Donations rose to $42 million in 2008 and UT Athletics has implemented a zero-based budgeting model to create a reserve of more than $7 million to ensure UT can continue to be one of a handful of athletics departments in the country receiving no funds from state subsidies or taxes.

As visionary of the Neyland Stadium Master Plan, unveiled in the fall of 2004, Hamilton is ensuring that Neyland Stadium will be around for the next 75 years and for generations of Vol fans to come. One key goal of the master plan, which is being completed in five phases, was to fund the renovations without overburdening the general fan primarily through the use of premium seat opportunities and targeted philanthropic gifts. Now in Phase III, Neyland Stadium already has seen renovations to the concourses, concessions and restrooms in the west and northwest areas of the stadium as well as renovations to the locker room, the addition of a field level Lettermen's Room and new media center, brick work around the field level, renovated west side skyboxes and press level, and the addition of the East Club and West Club, which are primary funding models for the renovations. By the 2010 season, more than 60 percent of the stadium will be completely renovated.

In addition to the Neyland Stadium Master Plan, Hamilton also has overseen the creation of the Allan Jones Intercollegiate Aquatic Center, Regal Soccer Stadium, Lee Softball Stadium and Pratt Pavilion basketball practice facility. In addition, improvements have been made to Thompson-Boling Arena and Lindsey Nelson Stadium to ensure that Tennessee has the best facilities to give its student-athletes and coaches the resources to compete for championships every season.

Under Hamilton's watch, Tennessee secured a partnership with IMG College worth a minimum of $133 million between 2007 and 2022. This extension provided additional funding that will allow Vol fans to enjoy a new HD video board at Neyland Stadium beginning with the 2009 season.

In addition to athletics facility upgrades, Hamilton has placed a focus on giving back to the school and the community through a variety of ways. For fiscal year 2009, the athletics department contributed more than $6.26 million in direct cash support to the University. The athletics department also provides indirect benefits to the University of more than $24 million through athletics benefits to UT employees and students through: free or reduced rate tickets to sporting events; licensing revenue; player-of-the-game scholarships; alumni association tickets; use of football skyboxes for University purposes; as well as utilities' costs and maintenance expenses for athletics facilities, which are centrally funded for other campus units.

Hamilton joined UT as Assistant Athletics Director for Development in 1992 and worked his way up to Senior Associate Athletics Director for External Operations in 2002 before being named Director of Athletics.

A native of Brevard, N.C., he served as assistant director of the Deacon Club at Wake Forest University before joining the Vols staff in 1992. He earlier had served as a graduate assistant in fundraising at his alma mater, Clemson University, where he earned both a bachelor's of science in accounting and a master's in business administration.

Hamilton was honored in the spring of 1998 when the National Association of Athletic Development Directors named him National Fundraiser of the Year. In 2006, he was named to the NCAA Academics, Eligibility and Compliance Cabinet. He currently is a member of the NCAA's Athletic Personnel Issues and Recruiting Cabinet as well as a member of the NCAA Football Academic Working Groups to study academic issues in college football. He was selected to serve on the SEC Advisory Group for Bowl Negotiations and the most recent television and media negotiations, as well as a subcommittee in the league to address cost containment issues. He is an active member of NACDA and the Division IA Athletic Directors Association, where is a frequent guest speaker, and is actively engaged in an Athletic Directors' Think Tank for Professional Growth.

Hamilton is the immediate past chairman of the Knox Area Chamber Partnership and serves on the board of directors of the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame. He also is involved in the Crohns/Colitis Foundation of America, Redeemer Church, Smoky Mountain Area Rescue Ministries and Adoption Advocate iniatitives. In 2004, he and his wife created the Mike and Beth Hamilton Celebrity Golf Classic for Bethany Christian Services, which has raised more than $300,000 for adoption services.

Hamilton is married to the former Elizabeth Merrill, also from Brevard. They are parents of a daughter, Madison, and a son, Matthew, and the family is welcoming three children – two sons, Natnael Edward, 7, and Kiya Isiah, 4, and an infant daughter, McKinley Kalu – from Ethopia this summer.

SEC Championship Game

Dec. 5 at Atlanta, Ga., 4 p.m. ET

General Information

The Southeastern Conference's Eastern and Western Division winners will meet in Atlanta's Georgia Dome (capacity 71,500) to battle for the league championship and the right to represent the conference in the Bowl Championship Series. The 18th-annual title game is set for Dec. 5 and will be nationally televised by CBS Sports (4 p.m. Eastern).

The game is a result of conference expansion, which saw Arkansas and South Carolina become the first members added in SEC history.

The participants of the game are determined each year during the eight-game regular-season conference schedule as the teams with the best overall SEC winning percentage in each division.

Big Orange Countdown

The Vol Network's Thursday night football preview show "Big Orange Countdown" returns for its third season in 2009. The show originates live from the Wild Wings Cafe in West Knoxville and is heard in most of the major markets in the state and airs from 8-9 p.m. ET / 7-8 p.m. CT.

2009 Vol Network Broadcast Team

Entering his 11th season, Bob Kesling is the play-by-play voice of Tennessee football on radio and the host of "Vol Calls" and "The Lane Kiffin TV Show." He is a four-time recipient of the "Sportscaster of the Year" award for the state of Tennessee.

Former All-SEC defensive back Tim Priest serves as the Network's color analyst, and former Vol offensive lineman Mike Stowell (1989-92) returns for his third season as sideline reporter.

Studio host John Wilkerson along with Brent Hubbs, Chip Kain and Will Overstreet contribute to the "Kickoff Call-In Show" beginning 90 minutes before each game.

2009 Lane Kiffin TV Show

The one-hour long "Lane Kiffin TV Show," touted the best TV coaches show in America, is seen throughout the state and the Southeastern U.S.
